GROUP OF OFFICERS N. G. A. COLLEGE.

LIEUT. J. V. ARREDALE, LIEUT. R. BYERS, CAPT. C. E. MARTIN, LIEUT. J. H. CRAIG, CAPT. P. J. HORTON, LIEUT. J. R. EYERS, LIEUT. S. C. EDMONSON, COM'D C. CURICK, LIEUT. R. GRANGER, LIEUT. W. T. TOWNSEND, MAJ. H. BEERS, CAPT. J. C. BARNES, ADJ. N. W. GRANT.

We present this week a half tone of the commissioned officers of the N. G. A. college. These young men received state commissions signed by the governor. It would be hard to find in any college a finer body of officers. They have proven themselves to be men of character that know how to obey and how to govern. The military officer from the U. S. government will find in these cadet officers able assistants.

The military department is well organized and officered. There are three companies, with over forty men in each company, besides officers. This department is one of the special features of the college and adds much to its efficiency and value.

How Fortunes are Made.

The richest man in Rome, Ga., in this epoch was Mr. Shorter. Many years ago, he had, all told, $15,000. A land owner asked him for the loan of that amount. He did not care to comply with this request, but was persuaded by his wife to do so. He had many unhappy days thereafter and thought his money virtually lost. He had, however, taken a mortgage on the land. Not very long afterwards the borrower died, and Mr. Shorter foreclosed the mortgage. At a public sale, he bid it in for $15,000, and his was the only offer. As Rome grew, the land became immensely valuable, and when Mr. Shorter died he was worth, because of this deal, $700,000. He said it was all luck in such transactions. This is one of many instances where "luck" or foresight has reaped a great reward, but where one man strikes it rich, thousands sink their cash unprofitably.

The Lenox family, in New York, became millionaires out of a $24,000 farm near Central Park.

Mr. Montgomery, of New Orleans, sold out a large Louisiana estate, at the beginning of the war, invested the proceeds in New York City, and died immensely rich. That was sagacity.

A Georgian proposed to invest $80,000 in Chicago real estate, in 1857, but was deterred by the results of the Dred Scott decision and apprehension of confiscation in case of war between the states. He could have bought land there for $5,000 an acre which now may be estimated at $300,000 an acre. His judgement was right, but his apprehension predominated. He had millions within his grasp, but let them go. Of course "luck" so called, has apparently much to do with such things, but sagacity plays a part also, and all happenings are providential.—Ex.

You Ask Him.

A girl rosy checked and demure was aboard the Central train. In the corner opposite sat a young man from Stillmore vicinity. The young girl was reading the Bible. The young man noticed the fact, and after looking her girl over critically he asked her if she actually believed all she found in the Bible.

"Yes," answered she, raising her eyes to him from the page.

"You don't believe the story of Adam and Eve?"

"Yes."

"Of Jonah and the Whale?"

The girl said she believed that too, and the young man was puzzled.

"But how are you going to prove it? Ask Jonah when you get there?"

That idea struck the girl as a good one, and she could prove it that way. "But, suppose he's not there," replied the young man, "What then?" "How will you prove it?"

"Oh," said the maiden who had become disgusted, "then you, ask him!"—Ex.

Do not forget your cellar; remove every particle of refuse vegetable matter; give the floor a liberal sprinkle of fresh lime and copperas. Old barrels, jars and boxes should be taken out and cleaned off.

How Editors Get Rich.

How so many editors get rich has always been a live question among many, and this is the way one of our exchanges sizes it up:

A child is born in the neighborhood; the attending physician gets $10; the editor gives the loud lunged youngster and the "happy parents" a send off and gets $0. It is christened and the minister gets $5, and the editor gets $00. It grows up and marries; the editor publishes another long-winded article and tells a dozen lies about the "beautiful and accomplished bride." The minister gets $10 and a piece of cake and the editor gets $000. In course of time it dies; the doctor gets from $5 to $1000, the minister perhaps gets another $5, the undertaker gets from $25 to $50. The editor publishes a notice of the death, an obituary two columns long, lodge and society resolutions, a lot of poetry and a free card of thanks, and gets $0000. No wonder so many country editors get rich.

Stringing the Wires.

A force of hands of the electric company is this week wiring the business houses around the square. A large number of lights have been taken by the business men in their stores as well as in their homes. The Smith-Thomas Co. and the G. F. Turner Co., each take 50 lights in their stores, the Arlington takes 100 and the opera house 50. Mr. Joe A. Smith takes forty lights in his residence, the largest number to be taken in any home.

The wire for the line to the Chestatee river has not yet arrived although it has been shipped some time. The power for the electric cars and lights will come from the dynamoes at the Chestatee dam, until the Chattahoochee river dam is finished. As soon as the wire reaches the city a large force of hands will be put to work setting poles and stringing wires thereon.

Mr. J. A. Kild is here to put down the track for the line. Mr. Carlisle stated Monday that the rails, or a shipment of them, would certainly be here this week. They have been on the road for sometime, and although a tracer has been sent after them they have not yet been located. However it is believed they will show up this week, in which event they will soon be taken from the cars and put in place on the road-bed.—Gainesville News.

Are you a school director, or a parent or a guardian of children, having the responsibility of their schooling upon you, as they now enter upon another year's work? Do you wear the obligations lightly, or wholly from a secular standpoint? Have you done your best to put the right kind of teachers over these children, and have you kept in mind the solemn fact that they will carry the products of this year's schooling not only into their future lives, but it will be woven into their destiny in eternity? We are far from saying that life is only a funeral preparation and procession; but we do say that it loses all its dignity and usefulness and real happiness, when our education and training look no further than time and flesh and sense. Just think of the millions of American children and young people now entering for another year our schools and colleges! No lover of his race, his country or his God can contemplate the matter indifferently.—Hicks.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, OCTOBER 3, 1902.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

It is said that President Roosevelt injured his party by his speeches in the west.

Some of the newspapers of this district are running Mr. Thomas Bell, of Gainesville, for congress in 1904.

Lawyer Ryals was arrested in Atlanta by a deputy sheriff, who is charged with forgery in Macon, Ga., last week.

Mrs. Amanda Craft of Irwin county, Ga., was wedded to Mr. E. N. Sullivan of Texas, last week for the third time. They were separated the last time about 20 years. The "third time is the charm."

John Moreland of Spartanburg, S. C., attempted to commit suicide in Gainesville last week by sending a bullet through his breast. He wanted to marry and the ordinary refused to grant the license, thus giving him trouble.

A negro preacher in a sermon at Savannah the other day, said the Birmingham disaster was caused by the wrath of God because delegates worshipped Booker Washington. He is mistaken. It is because a southern negro stepped on a northern negro's toes.

800,000 feet of timber will be used in the construction of the dam of the electric company at the Chattahoochee river. 400,000 feet will be square timber, and 400,000 round. Messrs Lipscomb & Spencer have the contract for furnishing the square timber, and their saw mill is now at work on the contract.—Gainesville News.

Corn shuckings, cane grindings and other big ballabaloos will be all the go now in a few days, and the old corn whoop will be music to the ears of the good old time farmer as he prepares the pile of corn for the merry shuckers. In fact it will make anybody think of the good old times that we use to have, says the Savannah News.

Three hundred coal miners went on a strike in Alabama one day last week on account of a dollar. By a vote the company was instructed to keep a dollar out of each laborer's wages for the benefit of the Pennsylvania strikers. One man refused to pay the assessment and the company failed to keep the dollar back, is why the strike occurred.

Local taxation for county school purposes, is virtually prohibited by the constitution. The provision is that only by a vote of two-thirds of the registered voters of a county can a tax of this nature be levied or bonds issued. It is out of the question to obtain such a vote. Hence Hoke Smith will petition the legislature to amend the constitution to remove this practically prohibitory clause.—Marietta Journal.

The next annual report of Commissioner John W. Lindsey of the pension department will show a very large increase in the number of pensions paid this year over the year 1901, and also a corresponding increase in the amount of money paid out by the state by the care of the Confederate veterans. The report this year shows an increase of 2,337 pensioners, and the paying out of $127,460 more money than was expended by the state last year on this account. Commissioner Lindsey has paid this year 13,975 pensions and the total amount paid to them is $322,845. Fulton county leads the list with 881. Camden has the smallest number of pensioners of any county in Georgia, only 7. Ellingham next with 13, Dade 14 and Echols 15. Lumpkin counts pensioners number 79, and the amount of money they received is $4,510.

It is said that the map of Apian of the year 1520 was the first one bearing the name of America.

A severe cyclone swept over Catania city on the east coast of Sicily, on the 26th ult. The path of the storm was 124 miles long and everything in the line was destroyed.

Last week Mr. J. W. Benson of St. Augustine, Fla., after traveling 1,400 miles to Valdosta, Ga., found his wife and child. His wife and Geo. Mier, also of St. Augustine, were living as man and wife. He carried his child back. Mier had deserted his wife and children. He was arrested.

There will be a total eclipse of the moon October 16th and 17th. The moon enters penumbra Oct. 16 p. m. Total eclipse begins Oct. 17, 12:19 a. m. Total eclipse ends Oct. 17, 1:45 a. m. Moon leaves penumbra Oct. 17, 3:50 a. m. It will be visible throughout the United States.

Further reports received regarding the earthquake in Eastern Turkey, which lasted from August 22 to September 3, show that in addition to causing other damages, the town of Artus was reduced to ruins, that 667 persons were killed and that one thousand others were injured.

The Kansas City Star thinks "The Kansas man who rose at a funeral and announced that if no person had anything to say about the departed he would like to make a few remarks about the free coinage of silver must be related in to the Rev. Dr. Washburn, who took occasion recently at Oyster Bay to eulogize President Roosevelt for his attitude in relation to the trusts."

Atlanta Journal: The case against Sheriff Lovingsgood of Fannin county, Ga., who is charged with making an arrest in the state of North Carolina without the proper authority, has been continued in Clay county, N. C., until the next session of court. Sheriff Lovingsgood was represented by attorney General Boykin Wright at the time of the trial. About a year ago Sheriff Lovingsgood was chasing a criminal, who went into the state of North Carolina. Sheriff Lovingsgood followed and arrested him.

In addition to what the Gainesville News said about the progress of the Electric Railway Co., published on our first page, the Eagle adds: "Mr. Carlisle yesterday received a telegram that the dynamo for the electric plant was being loaded on the cars at the factory for shipment to this place. He also had a message that three cars of steel rails were enroute to this city. Poles are being placed along the line of railroad to be built, and wire is in readiness. When a full force gets to laying rails, putting up poles and stretching wire it will not take many days to get things in running shape."

Governor Candler last week commuted the sentence of Joe Cornwall, who was sent up from Jones county 11 years ago charged with safe blowing. Cornwall was sentenced to 20 years in the penitentiary, and the governor reduced the sentence to 16 years, which, with the time allowed for good behavior, will release the man from prison in December. Cornwall was from Michigan and passed through Jones county shortly after a safe was robbed. He was arrested in Savannah and brought back to Jones county, where he was convicted on circumstantial evidence. Several weeks ago a negro was run over by a railroad train and when told by the physicians that he would have to die, he said that he had robbed the safe and that Cornwall had nothing whatever to do with it.

Eight cents a pound is what a young woman paid for twelve pounds of flesh.

She was thin and weak and paid one dollar for a bottle of Scott's Emulsion, and by taking regular doses had gained twelve pounds in weight before the bottle was finished.

Eight cents a pound is cheap for such valuable material. Some pay more, some less, some get nothing for their money. You get your money's worth when you buy Scott's Emulsion.

THE NUGGET.

DAYLONEGA, OCTOBER 3, 1902.

John Hatfield is now selling soda water by electric lights. John means to keep up with the times.

Mr. M. G. Head has returned from Atlanta with a new supply of goods at greatly reduced prices. Call.

All kinds of fancy candies just received by Tate, Littlefield & Co. If you want to get sweet, go and see them.

As I expect to change my business on the first of November I wish all parties owing me by note or account to come forward and settle at once. T. J. SMITH.

Gate's post-office is less than a dozen miles above here in Lumpkin county, yet it some times takes a letter three or four days to come to Dahlonega from that place.

Mr. G. H. McGuire received the patent on his new hillside turner one day last week from the department and will soon be ready to supply the farmers with this useful implement.

Mr. M. G. Williams closed up his store last week for several days and took an outing up in the mountains where he enjoyed "yellow" legged chickens and sliced potato pies.

A broken bolt belonging to the Nugget press last week, caused most of that issue to be badly printed. But it is all right now and will come to your right side up with care hereafter.

One of the members of the city council, who is opposed to anything being sold on Sunday except medicines, is going to throw a bomb into the camps when the council meets next Monday night.

See the advertisement of Mr. James Elliott to be found in another column. He is going to sell out and move away and if you want any farm products, horses, wagon, cattle, &c., attend the sale to come off Oct. 27, 1902.

Recently Mr. Mark Hopkins, resigned the presidency of the Dahlonega Consolidated Co. on account of his old age. Mr. Ainsdale of Chicago, was elected in his place. This gentleman came in last week and spent several days in taking a general observation of the company's property.

We understand that Mr. J. H. Jenkins, who recently moved out on his farm, is going to purchase about thirty cows to supply the market with butter and feed the milk to his hogs. This looks to us like it will be a good enterprise and safe investment. Very often not a single pound of butter can be purchased in Dahlonega.

Watson and Ricketts dissolved partnership in the barber business last week and the former has opened out a general repair shop in the lower east room of the old Dahlonega Hotel. We don't mean to say that Mr. Watson proposes to repair heads, but to fix watches, clocks, sewing machines, &c.

Manda Hashaw, the negro woman we mentioned as disappearing from home a few weeks ago, returned to Dahlonega with her child last week. She said she had been staying over in Union county. The negro is crazy but seems to be harmless, unless she drags her child about until she perishes it to death.

The heaviest rain this section has had for many months fell last week, causing the streams to swell considerably. The gates of the dam at the electric power plant on the Chestatee were shut down to keep any damage from being done to the structure and the water backed up on some of the farmers' crops above, doing considerable damage. One man, so we understand, claims that he was damaged a thousand dollars on a farm he returns for taxes at only $40.

Col. Lilly went to Dawson county last Sunday.

Col. and Mrs. R. H. Baker went down to Gainesville last Sunday.

Mr. John H. Moore and family visited relatives in Dawson county last Sunday.

Col. Charters and Mr. H. D. Garley took in the sights of Atlanta last week.

There was heavy enough frost down on the creek last Sunday as to leave the sign.

Mrs. Charlie Roberts is quite sick and not expected to live long unless a change soon takes place.

Mr. W. B. Woodward of the Signal, went down to Gainesville last Sunday in search of fall ads. for his paper.

Mr. Oliver, the telephone man from Gainesville, was up last Sunday on business, accompanied by another gentleman.

The students anticipate getting out a college paper. One used to be published here and it was always read with much interest.

Mr. G. McGuire visited his mother in Dawson county last week accompanied by his daughter, Miss Fannie, and Mr. G. H. McGuire.

Can any one tell us what has become of all the wild pigeons? There used to be thousands of them here every fall, but we haven't seen a single one for years.

At the beginning of the fall season of the college there were many home sick boys but they have got acquainted with the place and many of the people are now better satisfied.

A gentleman was on the hunt of some one to cut wood last week but failed to find a person who wished a job, and yet some people will sit round and cry out hard times. They won't take a job when they can get one.

Mr. M. J. Williams, who returned from across the Blue Ridge, tells us that Mr. Bill Shepp thinks he has a thousand bushels of apples. This item is given you to show how thrifty apple trees are in this mountain section.

On the hotel register this week we noticed the names of Mr. J. W. Adams of Chattanooga, Tenn., Mr. G. H. Breyman of Toledo, O., besides Mr. S. R. Ainsdale of Chicago, Ill. All interested in the Consolidated Gold Mining Co.

On last Saturday morning after leaving home we decided to go up to Yahoola and hear Col. Baker make a political speech. Not having time to go back home we ran into a restaurant and asked the lady to fix us up a little dinner lunch just big enough to keep us from taking the headache. Very soon the good lady had us four large biscuits and a lot of preserves, butter, etc., in a paper sack and we started out in company with the speaker and several other gentlemen, including a minister.

Upon arriving at Yahoola we found a goodly number of citizens on hand ready to hear the discussion of the political issues of the day, which were explained and given them in a manner that would not offend the most bitter republican or so-called independent in the county. At the conclusion of Col. Baker's speech he introduced Hon. G. D. Bruce, who was re-elected Wednesday to the legislature without opposition. It was the first time we had ever heard Mr. Bruce speak and we must confess that the manner in which he handled the subject, touched up with such a splendid oratorical tone surprised us all. Everything passed off quietly and pleasantly. At this place we found a Miss Davis of Union county, teaching school in one of those nice, comfortable school houses Col. Price has told you about, but it being a busy time with the farmers in saving their fodder, few pupils were on hand at this time. It is always a pleasure for us to get to visit Yahoola and see the beautiful section and clever people. One special reason is, 28 years ago the 27th of next December we went up there and found a wife.

Boys, don't marry a woman that is too lazy to feed the chickens.

News comes from Dawsonville that the independents carried that county.

Mr. Strickland has had his residence touched up by the painter's brush.

The time for paying city taxes was up first of the month and as usual some tax payers were behind.

Many wagons passed through this week from the mountains loaded with cabbage for the lower markets.

We understand that the waters of the Chestatee river like four inches yet of being as high as the low water mark.

There are now 190 students on the college roll, and it won't be long until it will reach the two hundred mark.

It wouldn't do for some of you to have your photographs taken now for you look too bad just after the election.

Mr. Jaquish of Gainesville, who owns valuable mineral property in this county, passed through the city first of the week.

There has been an increase of nearly 8,000 pensions during the year and several have been sent off from Lumpkin county right recently.

Our old friend Mr. A. S. Whelchel of New Bridge, Ga., who had such a severe spell of sickness recently, was in Dahlonega on Monday.

The lady losing a cloak or jacket can get it by calling at Isaac Ruckers, col., out in Shoal Creek district and pay him 25 cents for this notice.

Mr. John Jackson is going to move down to the Dunlap shoals in Hall county, where he will remain until the Crown Mountain plant can be started up.

The early mail schedule to Gainesville went into effect the first of the month and a good many people's letters will be left until they get use to it.

Fodder pulling is about over in this section, and the farmers that have not made their syrup will now begin. The crop was never larger or better in this section.

Quite a number of our citizens expect to attend the Southern Inter-State Fair in Atlanta. Liberator's world famous orchestra alone will be worth going to hear.

The chestnut crop in the mountains is said to be large. Many times number of citizens, residing where there are plenty, pick up and sell enough to pay their taxes.

Some fifteen or twenty students went up on the Blue Ridge last Monday, and it was quite a treat to those living in a level country where no hills nor mountains exist.

The relatives here of Mr. John Gaston, a son of Judge J. B. Gaston of Gainesville, were notified this week that he was lying at the point of death at Gadsden, Ala., with typhoid fever.

It will be seen that Mr. E. S. Copeland of this place, is going out of the mercantile business, who is selling out his goods very low. He will engage in the life insurance business for the Manhattan Co.

Rev. Mr. D. W. DeWees, the former pastor of the Baptist church at Dahlonega left last Tuesday for Cumming, Ga., where he goes to take charge of the Highwater Baptist Institute of that place in December.

Last Saturday night while the Pi Capa fraternity were preparing to initiate some one in their hall, over Mr. J. H. Moore's market, the benzine can, lamp or whatever they use for this purpose, exploded and blazed up, badly burning Mr. R. N. Steed about the face, and considerably injuring Mr. G. M. Barnes, the former being unable to get out for a day or so. The big blaze in the room looked very dangerous for awhile.

Mr. R. C. Meaders spent a few days in Gainesville this week.

Mr. Joseph Ricketts, the barber, is still doing business at the same old stand.

The New Union Association is now in session at Salem church in this county.

Copeland is closing out at actual cost. Go at once if you wish to save money on goods.

Yellow Creek camp meeting begins to-day which will end all the camp meetings for this season in these parts.

Deputy Marshal Grizzle has been busy for about two weeks summoning witnesses to attend the U. S. Court in Atlanta.

Mr. Avery, notwithstanding his old age and bad health, came out last Wednesday and voted, probably being the oldest white voter here.

Rev. George L. Barnwell of Cumming, Ga., is expected to preach at the Baptist church on next Sabbath morning at 11 o'clock. Also at night.

The telephone line to Gainesville has been sold to the Bell Telephone Co., and the office is being moved to the Meaders House with Mr. R. C. Meaders as operator.

The last circular gotten up by the republicans and set up at the Signal office on Sunday, so we are reliably informed, didn't have much effect in the election.

The election in Dahlonega was unusually quiet last Wednesday. Everybody seemed to be in a good humor, behaved nicely and no one had to be locked up.

Mr. G. H. McGuire left this week for Atlanta, where he goes to contract with the manufacture of this new patent hillside plow. It may be that he will take in the Fair with it.

A Union county teacher writes us that there has only been one teacher of his county dismissed by the board of Lumpkin county for incompetency. The other he says was from Towns county. We make the correction with pleasure.

Mrs. E. W. Strickland has just returned from Atlanta where she went to purchase her fall Millinery goods, which are being received now and ready for your inspection. Miss Florence McAfee will be with Mrs. Strickland again ready to show goods and wait on purchasers.

At the request of a northern gentleman we publish the rainfall in this locality during the drouth, which will clearly demonstrate to all of them why a great deal of the mining business had to suspend in this section. This report was furnished us by Prof. B. P. Gaislard, one of the teachers in the N. G. A. College.

Col. Alfred Harington, the famous lecturer of the South, will deliver his noted lecture of the "Negro and The South," at Dahlonega on Saturday night, Oct. 11, 1902. Proceeds to be used for charitable purposes in Lumpkin county. Col. Harington is full of wit and humor. It will be a treat to hear him.

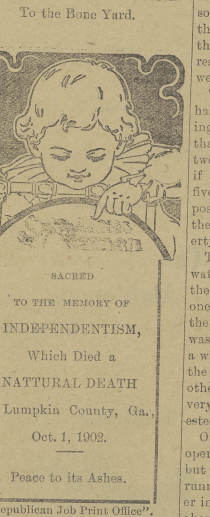

Down at Auraria last Wednesday one of the Brackets and Robert Chambers got to scuffling in a good humor but before it ended they got mad and commenced fighting. Jim Chambers, a brother to Robert, threw a stone at Bracket which missed its aim and struck his brother's forehead, crushing the skull so you could lay your finger in it and is likely to produce death.

Last Sunday's Savannah News contained a very interesting article written by Col. Estill of that paper, about his trip to Dahlonega while a candidate for governor, telling all about the discovery of gold in Lumpkin, the place and the people he met while here. The Colonel is an able writer and his articles are always read with much interest. Wish we had space to publish the article but its length prevents us from doing so.

Mining Notes.

Work is progressing nicely on the Gorge dam.

Mr. Packard of the Turkey Hill mine keeps his mill moving profitably.

Mr. Wild of the Cavender Creek mine has not returned yet but is expected soon.

The new company's boat in the Chestatee keeps robbing her beds of the precious metal.

Roberts and Johnson have been able to keep their little mill busy down on the Gordon since the rains of last week.

Everything about the Copper mine presents a business like appearance. Work is going on as rapidly as possible.

A splendid vein was struck by Mr. W. G. Campbell down on the Standard property, known as the Singleton. It is a good size vein and shows much gold.

Some of the members of the Dahlonega Gold Mining and Milling Co. are looked for soon, then it is believed work will be resumed on the Briar Patch ditch.

The Superior Court of Lumpkin county was convened long enough last Tuesday by Judge Estes for him to grant a mining charter to the Etowah Gold Mining Co.

The water has increased enough to enable them to start the air compressor last Monday afternoon and suspend the operation of drilling in the tunnel by hand.

Mr. Wharton Anderson of the Calhoun Mine, exhibited to some of his friends of our city, 750 pennyweights of beautiful retorted gold made after a run of twenty-six days.

Mr. S. R. Ainsdale of Chicago, the newly elected president of the Consolidated G. M. Co. here, no doubt is the right man in the right place, as he seems to be full of business.

Since the drouth has broken the mining industry has commenced to loom up and if the season is favorable the mining plants that have been idle so long for the want of water will be able to resume work in a month or six weeks.

To show that Mr. Breyman has great confidence in deep mining in this section we understand that he says he will put in twenty-five thousand dollars more if the others will raise seventy-five thousand for the purpose of continuing the shafts on the Consolidated company's property.

They commenced pumping the water out of the incline down at the Benning last Saturday and one on the Standard property, so the whistle at the Consolidated was blown for the first time in quite a while. The vein in the cut at the Singleton looks well, and the other work going on down there is very encouraging to those interested.

Only ten stamps are now in operation down at the Singleton but ten more will be put to running as soon as the water power increases. The stamps weigh about 450 pounds and save the gold much better than some mills having heavier stamps. When they are too heavy the gold is pounded up so fine that much of it is washed away.

Johnson and Riley are still progressing on their vein down at the Singleton. The last run of two weeks' work, with the labor of the two only, produced 808 pennyweights of pure gold. They now have out about 30 tons of the same kind of ore ready for the mill. These two natives are much experience-miners and know exactly how to find a mine and work profitably after they do.

Since the stone coal was struck on Black Mountain numbers of people have been to investigate it from Lumpkin and Union counties, even citizens from Hall. Every one who visits the place says the indications are good for a bed of coal. No work is going on there now, as the pit or shaft is in such a condition as to be too dangerous to work in, on account of the large rock just above it.

Honesty.

[Estelle Gardiner.]

"Honesty is the best policy," is an old proverb. It means that it is the safest to be honest. As long as a man is honest, people will trust him, and he will succeed in his undertakings.

But honesty is best because it pleases God. That should be the chief reason why we try to be honest. An honest boy or girl will not tell a lie, or take anything that does not belong to them. When people steal they generally have to tell lies to hide it. Lying and stealing go together.

It is dishonest to cheat, as well as to steal. It is dishonest to tell lies. School children are often tempted to give in wrong marks when school is over. Honest children will not do this. Dishonest people always are afraid of being found out, but honest people are always able to look others in the face, without being ashamed. No matter how poor a man is, if he is honest, he will be respected.

There never was a paper in any locality that gave all the news, says an exchange. It is so often that some persons come or go that the editor does not see. It happens that a family is missed several times. They get the impression that the paper does not mention them or has a grudge against them. The paper has no ill feeling, no enmity against anyone. Most people take the local paper. But be afraid to give the editor news of interest. Perhaps you think the paper has shown partiality, but try and see if it does not treat you right if you give it a chance.

He was teaching her how to swim. To teach a girl how to swim it is not absolutely necessary that one should hold on to her all the time it is better so if she happens to be pretty and otherwise attractive.

"Do you think I will learn quickly?" she asked.
"I hope not," she replied.
—Chicago Post.

A man has a cotnamus and he called to see a doctor and the doctor said: "Now you take my advice, I went home yesterday with a toothache and my wife hugged me until my toothache was gone, and you do the same." The man said: "All right, sir; is your wife at home now?"

Sensible and successful farmers will miss no opportunity, and spare no pains or effort to safely house the products of their fields, before the autumn storms "come down like a wolf on the fold." Let the things go that can be done in the winter, and garner in your corn and other products. Why let them spoil or greatly deteriorate in the open fields?—Word and Works.

A North Georgia man ate fifty roasting ears at one sitting recently on a wagon. The funeral was largely attended, but the coroner's verdict was that it was an unwarranted waste of short corn crop.—Jackson Argus.

IRRIGATION.

Mr. W. R. Welke in Farm and Ranch for July 29th, 1902, writing for his own State, Texas, says: "If the rice farmer could find means to irrigate his field and keep it for weeks, and even months, under water, why should the cotton, wheat and corn raising people not be able to give their fields one, or even two irrigations, one before and another during the drouth. The subterfuge that it costs too much, that the farmer is not able, is untenable. The fact is that either he does not believe in it, or he is too indolent to get out of the old rut. If he is not able to do it alone, can't he combine with his neighbor? It seems that the hundreds of thousands of dollars invested every year in costly farm machinery and noting in the rain, could have been better employed on irrigation plants, that would enable the buyer to have something to reap and thrash. The best reaping and threshing machinery cannot harvest a crop that is not grown. Good cultivation goes far to make a crop, but, if there is not sufficient moisture in the soil to dissolve the plant and enable the root to assimilate the same, there will not be a paying crop, even on the best available bottom soil, even if the subsoil is rich in moisture from the lower strata and a half a bale of cotton or 20 bushels of corn to the acre may be raised on this extraordinary soil. Two bales of cotton and 80 to 100 bushels of corn to the acre with one good irrigation at the right time would make the greatest farmer smile. The upland or white farmer is still more in need of irrigation than the owner of rich alluvial bottom lands."

Now we will add to this remark of Mr. Welke's irrigation may not be practicable on all Georgia farms, but there are sections of the State where it is practicable, and where it would secure to the farmer immunity from drouth and consequent failure of crops.

GA. DEPT. OF AGRICULTURE.

LIVE STOCK AND DAIRY.

The Jersey cow is known all over Georgia for her many excellent qualities as a milk and butter producer. Another excellent milking breed is the Holstein, and especially for the ability to give large quantities of milk, though not so rich as that furnished by the Jersey.

From the Southern Planter, published in Richmond, Va., we have seen an account of a fine herd of Holsteins owned by Mr. T. O. Gauley of Danville, Nettoway County, Va. Mr. Sandy's herd has made a wonderful record as milkers and cream producers. The cream is shipped to Richmond every day, while the separated milk is fed to the calves and hogs.

Mr. Sandy has also a fine herd of Berkshire hogs, a flock of Dorset sheep and breeds of Hackney horses. The most interesting part of this story is the effect produced upon his farm which, when he took it in hand, was a poor southside farm, so poor that he could with difficulty raise enough to supply a few cattle. Now it produces the heaviest crops of corn and grain, forage crops for the silo and hay for the barn. There is now never any lack of abundant feed for the large number of months to be fed.

The manure from the stock is carefully saved and applied to the land, being supplemented with slag phosphate when and wherever needed. This together with a rotation of crops calculated to keep the supply of humus constantly on the increase in the land is the secret of Mr. Sandy's success.

The keeping of live stock and proper building up of the soil will make many a poor farm in Georgia as fertile as the farm of Mr. Sandy, and make its owner rich besides. Some prefer raising beef cattle, and there is probably as much money in them as in dairy stock. They certainly will do their part just as well toward enriching the soil and making it bear abundantly.

Every farmer cannot do all the things recommended by this Department, but all can do some of them and a few can do all. Let each man do his best with the means at his disposal and the wealth of our entire State and of its individual citizens will increase in a measure unparalleled in our past history.

GA. DEPT. OF AGRICULTURE.

WHEN TO SELL AT A PROFIT.

We find the following good advice in the "Marchessett Ploughman" of July 26th, 1902: "It is one thing to know how to fatten cattle or swine at the lowest possible cost, and another thing is to know how and when to sell them at a profit. We know that the sure rule for the selling part, though we could give nearly a dozen for the fattening. Sell them when they are well fitted for slaughter; a day or a week later means extra feed and small gain; a day or a week less means a lower price than might be obtained if they were in prime condition. Some have had experience enough to tell this by the look and feel of the animal. Others need the help of the scale to tell them when the gain in weight is enough to pay for the food given. The scale is more likely to be accurate than the shrewdest guesses. Do not make the mistake of feeding to long after they have reached the prime point."

GA. DEPT. OF AGRICULTURE.

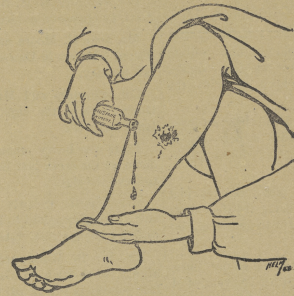

GEORGIA DEEP CATTLE.

With many people there is great objection to western beef on account of the taste that clings to most of it from the materials that have been used in the cold storage plants, to keep it in good condition for the market.

When Georgia beeves have been well fattened and properly cared for, their flesh is much preferred by many people. Whether the supply of western beef is sufficient to meet the demand. In view of the high price of western meat, a fine opening is presented for enterprising Georgia farmers. If they will set aside part of their land for the pasturage of beef cattle and breed from the best beef strains, we shall soon have the packing houses at home and with an abundant supply of home raised beef, prices will come down to the level of the poor man's purse.

THE FIRST ENGLISH DAILY.

Published Two Hundred Years ago on a Half Sheet of Foolscap.

The first English daily paper was issued 200 hundred years ago last month. It was the Daily Courant, which was published next door to the King's Arms tavern at Fleetbridge, London, on the thoroughfare that is still the headquarters of English Journalism.

The Courant consisted of but a single sheet of the size of half sheet of foolscap or dead paper and was printed only on one side. There was no editorial comment and no advertisements. The sole source of foreign news was the continental papers, principally those of Paris, and credit was always given to the paper, "for an assurance that we will not, under pretense of having private intelligence, impose any addition of feigned circumstances to action." The most modern thing about the Courant was its effort at accuracy. At that time various weekly papers were in existence, but their news was of so unreliable a character the journals became a byword for inaccuracy.

The Courant scorned these methods and the evils of subsidized comment and in its clear character as well as in its very existence opened a new era in news dissemination.

The proprietor of the Courant was E. Mallet, and it was he that first showed the practicability of his own excellent conception of a clean newspaper. Samuel Buckley bought the Courant on April 23, 1702, and added advertisements, consisting chiefly of announcements of new books, such as "A Modest Inquiry Concerning the Opinion of Guardian Angels."—New York World.

Stay on the Farm.

"The country boy sighs for city life, and when he finally reaches goal he begins to wish himself again among the birds and flowers. With the coming of old age he regards himself lucky if he can get his feet back on mother earth. The strife is as great to acquire sufficient wealth to purchase land on which to spend the declining years as was the youthful struggle to get a foothold in the city. The smiling sky and the green earth seem to be the natural heritage of man, and one feels this this quite so keenly as the one who has had a taste in youth of sweets of rural life."

A country boy must have written that in country life in America. Certainly it voices the feelings of thousands of exiles in cities, who as the years glide distantly have sold their birthright for a mess of pottage. These exiles in the loneliness and under pressure of competition in the city life have sympathizers among city-bred men who know only by heresy of the joys of country life or have learned of them under the disadvantages of hasty visits in summer. The lament of men who have made a mistake in leaving the country or in remaining in town ought to warn the rising generation against duplicating. Stay on the farm, boys, and do your part toward making the farm worth staying on.—Ex.

During the past year there has been 3,128 new applications for pensions.

Do Your Best.

REV. J. W. NEYMAN.

What is worth doing at all is worth doing well. It always pays to do your best no matter you do. The persons who does less than his best suffers as a result. This truth is forcibly illustrated by the following incident: A wealthy man thought he provide a home for the family of a poor carpenter. After the wealthy man had his plan made out for the house, he gave his carpenter the contract to put up the building without telling him his purpose in building it. The carpenter was a dishonest man and so endeavored to cheat his employer by using poor material and not doing his work well. When the building was finished he came for his pay, and was greatly surprised when the man handed him with the pay for erecting the building the deed to the property, and said: "You have built your own house. It was my intention from the first to give it to you when completed." And so the man hurt himself and not his employer by not doing his best.

Colds.

Whenever you contract a cold, before resorting to drugs of any kind, try the following process: If able, go out into the open air and breath copiously and deeply for about twenty times, repeating the operation every hour until cured. If unable to go out, have the windows and doors open, wrap yourself in blankets or other warm clothing, during which time do just as directed. Some persons having had a cough for six weeks have got rid of it by this process; also cured themselves of colds newly contracted. Therefore, everywhere try to cultivate full and frequent lung inflation by breathing clear out, clear in, and low down—that is, make all your breathing as when taking a long breath; and a tendency to throw off the waste materials at the pores, and revitalize the blood, and thereby impart warmth and energy to the system. So that the rooms are well ventilated, especially your sleeping apartment. Wear woollen stockings and strong boots. Some wear soles made of rabbit skin.—Health.

Cost More Here.

A distinguished republican walked in a New York club room a few nights since and announced that he was almost persuaded to become a democrat, and following we give his reasons. He went into a pump factory and ordered a pump to be exported to some foreign shore. The salesman offered him the pump for $850. He informed the salesman that he wanted the pump shipped across the river to Jersey. I cannot sell to you at that price to be shipped to Jersey. Our price for pumps shipped to Jersey is $850.00 each.

Now reader can you see what protective tariff is doing for us? This man could have bought that pump to be shipped to Germany at $850.00. But if he is going to use it in this country it will cost him $650. The manufacturer makes a profit on the machine shipped to Germany and gets rich on the machine sold in the country.

The harvesting machine people are doing the same thing. They have prices for the different states according to their competition. You can buy any of these cheaper in foreign countries than you can here. Why? Because they have to sell cheaper in order to meet competition in those countries.

Buying Southern Lands.

Indicative of the widening interest in farming opportunities in the South is a letter received from Illinois by a financial firm in New York city. The letter says: "Indian corn was never better. Broom corn has grown so rank that the brush of the early planted is too coarse to be first class. As it is planted at different times, the later corn may have a finer brush. Farm lands have advanced in price. The farmers are getting well off, and no longer have many mortgages on their farms. Some are selling out and going where land is cheaper."

And some of them are finding those cheaper lands, and, at the same time, more productive lands, in the South. It is better to raise rice yielding on an average of $22 an acre than wheat and oats, and corn and hay yielding $7 or $8 an acre, especially if one may buy four acres of rice land with the proceeds of the sale of one acre of wheat land.

It is to be expected that this interest in Southern lands, which are bound to advance in price, will be marked by the birth of many get-rich-quick schemes in the North and West. The best policy for would-be buyers of Southern lands is to disregard such schemes and to pin their faith to the accredited representatives of Southern railroads, which have for years been directed immigration southward, and to reputable real estate dealers in the South, who make their offers through established publications.—Ex.

Jailed For Smoking Cigarettes.

Elizabeth City, Special.—Editor Saunders, of The Elizabeth City Tarheel, was Tuesday morning arrested and thrown into prison for smoking a cigarette within the corporate limits of Elizabeth City. Recently the board of aldermen of this city passed an ordinance making it an offense, subject to a fine, for any minor to smoke cigarettes upon the streets of Elizabeth City. This morning Mr. W. O. Saunders violated that law, and was arrested. He pleaded guilty. Mayor Wilson imposed the stipulated fine. Young Saunders refused to pay the fine or give bond. He said: "The law is unconstitutional and arbitrary for a free-born American." Saunders is in the lock-up. He refuses all offers of many friends to go on his bond. The result of this unique case promises to be interesting.

Men and Salutes.

A recent writer says: "The Chinaman bends to the very ground when he salutes; the Russian, father west, takes off his hat and scrapes with it his very path; in Prussian Konigsberg, always father west, the passersby salute each other by taking off their hats or caps very low; in Berlin the head covering is raised but little; in Paris still less, in London not at all or with a difference. The American keeps his hat on immovably and never bends, but all civilized nations, of course, take off their hats to the ladies."

A Heathen's Idea.

A Chinaman who acted as secretary to a former Chinese minister to England has published a book which he says: "There is nothing which an Englishman won't eat, there is nothing in Italian won't sting, there is no measure to which a Frenchman won't dance, and there is nothing Russians won't covet."

Cured

At 70 of Heart Disease Contracted

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure • Effected Cure.

Heart disease is curable, but in people of advanced age it does not readily lend itself to ordinary treatment. There is, however, hope for all sufferers in Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, which we know of from watching hundreds of cases and from the letters of grateful sufferers, will cure where all else has failed. It is not only a wonderful cure for weak and diseased hearts, but it is a blood tonic, a regulator of the heart's action and the most effective treatment ever formulated for improving the circulation of the blood.

"During the Civil war I contracted heart disease, and in 1865 while living in the grand old town of Lexington, Va. I grew so much worse, I left there with my wife to visit my sister-in-law, Mrs. T. A. Kirby, at Keokuk, Va. While I was residing to my wife I never expected to live to return to the dear old town. On reaching Mrs. Kirby's abode I should try Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. I procured a few bottles of it, also the Nervine and Tonic. After using one or two bottles, I could see no improvement, and I despaired of ever being better, but my faithful wife insisted on keeping it up, which I did. Improvement soon began to manifest and I took in all fifteen or sixteen bottles. I was restored to perfect health and while I am 70 years old I am comparatively a boy. You sin, are a benefactor, and I cheerfully recommend Dr. Miles' Heart Cure to suffering humanity."—J. L. SLAUGHTER, Salem, Va.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, OCTOBER 10, 1902.
Entered at the Postoffice at Dahlonega, Ga., P. O.
as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

The Ellijay Courier "was printed by the 'devil' last week.

Ledford, the independent candidate for sheriff in Fannin county only received 25 votes.

The amount paid out by Georgia to her pensioners since state first began its work is $7,000,000.

Mr. John W. Jordan, one of the oldest residents of Atlanta, dropped dead last Sunday while on his way to church.

Butcher Pitts of Atlanta was fined $50.75 last week for selling impure beef by Judge Broyles. Served him right.

If any of the independent candidates or their friends in this county have a bad taste in their mouths let them take a dose of God Liver Oil.

Mr. West, the defeated independent candidate for tax receiver in Lumpkin county, says that he is a candidate now and will be until he is elected.

Now that the election is over people can give their attention to religious matters, as it is impossible to serve the Lord and the devil at the same time.

Mrs. Monk, who was run down by a car on the Atlanta Railway Power Co. last fall and lost both arms has secured a verdict of $10,000. She sued for $50,000.

Although a republican could not be had to help hold the election in the town last week we have heard of no grumbling. The democratic majority was too large.

The county officers elected in White county are as follows: For Clerk C. W. Ledford. Sheriff W. A. Jackson. Receiver W. J. Oakes, Jr. Collector J. C. Hood. Treasurer L. S. Sears.

The election managers are very clever in Union county. Last week at one precinct they carried the ballot box some distance from the law ground where some parties were sick so they could vote.

Mr. Johnson and Pool of Alpharetta, Ga., stopped at the Tate House Tuesday night on their return from the Baptist Association which was held near Blairsville, accompanied by several of Mr. Pool's daughters.

The coal strike began May 12, 1902 and has lasted about 140 days and the miners and others out of work number 183,500, and the total loss of miners wages and loss to operators, damage to machinery, etc., is $182,280,000.

A contract has been made by parties in New York to buy 50,000 tons of coal in England, and the Dominion Company of Canada is about to import 100,000 tons to the United States. Coal is bound to be had, either far or near.

There were 40 candidates for offices in White county as follows: 4 for representative, 5 for clerk, 5 for sheriff, 2 for receiver, 5 for collector, 14 for treasurer, 6 for surveyor and 7 for coronor. More started to run but withdrew before the race ended.

The editor of the Wiregrass Blade recently donned a Jackasses head and called it "Jay See," who for the last two weeks has been braying loud and criticising many of the weekly papers of Georgia, one of them being the NUGGET, which he says "has a consumptive look that augurs ill for its future." The NUGGET may have a little consumptive look to the Blade man but we are happy to say that it is self sustaining. It does not have to look for a support from rich knifels or anti-pated legislative salaries. For fear the Blade might contract the "consumption" from the NUGGET we strike the paper from our exchange list.

The Legal Advertising.

Beginning with the first of November there will be a change in the legal advertising of this county, as will be seen by the sheriff's notice elsewhere. Heretofore the sales were published in both, the NUGGET and Signal, and the fees divided, but hereafter all legal advertising of this county will appear in the NUGGET alone.

How the Two Independents Ran.

There were two independent candidates in Lumpkin county. One for sheriff and the other for tax receiver. Mr. J. W. Stancil being in the race for the former office and Mr. W. J. West for the latter.

Below we give the vote of each and their opponents by districts, as follows:

The populists were successful in Coffee county.

The Congressional election comes off on Nov. 4th.

Judge J. S. Candler received a majority of about 18,000 votes.

Fannin went democratic for the first time in the county's history.

Capt. E. P. Howell was elected Atlanta's mayor at the primary last week by a big majority.

The price of coal is steadily advancing. It is higher than it has been for years and very scarce.

The populists lost Banks county last week. The democratic ticket was elected from top to bottom.

On our fourth side this week will be found Col. Estill's interesting letter recently written about Dahlonega.

Mr. Bona Allen last week sold $10,000 worth of sole leather to Everett, Reagan & Co., at Gainesville.

Mr. Magid has purchased 11,700 acres of land from Mr. Tom Ellard on the line of Tallulah Falls railroad to raise silk.

In White Col. Joe Underwood was re-elected to the legislature by a majority of 121. Judge Ross got one vote in the county.

Union county went democratic this time with the exception of treasurer. Hon. Carl Wellborn was re-elected to the legislature by a majority of only 9 votes. Jeff Brooksher, who is well known to many of the people of Lumpkin, was elected tax collector by a vote of more than 200.

Those elected in Dawson county last week were: For Representative, Amos Roper, by 182 majority over John P. Lilly. Sheriff, G. M. Taylor. Receiver, Adolphus Gaddis. Collector, J. R. Stone. Treasurer W. J. Tucker. All independents or republicans except the clerk, who had no opponent.

Mr. W. C. Moore, who is engaged down at the Dunlap Shoals, was up last Sunday and stated that work was progressing on the power plant of the electric company splendid.

Rev. Mr. Blackwell, who returned from Nacoochee Valley this week, says he saw a sweet potato raised by Mr. James Wheeler up there that weighed eight pounds.

Dahlonega is badly in need of a good dentist. Within the past ten days some seven or eight persons have had to go to Gainesville, a distance of 25 miles, to have their work done, making it pretty expensive and very painful when a fellow has the toothache.

The noted cherry tree swindlers of North Carolina escaped the penitentiary but have to go to jail. The defendants agreed to pay in $5,000 as restitution money this term of the court and another $5,000 at the December term. Rev. T. Bright, Frank Bright and C. D. Wilkie are the principal defendants.

Last Sunday Amanda Heshner, col., visited several stores and tried to gain admittance showing that she is too crazy to know when Sunday comes. When she was missing for two or three weeks some of the colored people wanted to swear out a warrant for larceny so the sheriff could hunt her up for them, but now that the woman has returned they don't seem to care to move in the matter.

Mr. Virgil Walltroup next to the wealthiest man in Union county, is building a telephone line from Blairsville to Cleveland in White county. The wires are already strung as far as the foot of the mountain on this side, on the Teanet Gap road. When, or by the time it is completed, Col. Farrow will construct a line from Porter Springs and connect with Mr. Walltroups at the Tom Allen old place in White county, a distance of seven miles. So when his line from Porter to Dahlonega is out of order his guests can use the other line via Cleveland to any place in Georgia having telephone communication.

Col. W. A. Charters of Dahlonega, the efficient and popular solicitor general of the Northeastern circuit, bought a lot on Green street Monday from Dean & Dunlap between the lots of Mr. S. C. Dunlap Jr. and Mr. R. O. Green. The lot is 100 x 420 feet and Col. Charters paid $1000 for it. Upon the lot Col. Charters will at an early date begin the erection of a handsome new residence. Gainesville News.

At a regular meeting of the city council Monday night the ordinance allowing the owners of drug stores or any one else to sell cigars, tobacco and temperance drinks on Sunday, was repealed. The motion was made by Councilman Boyd, seconded by Councilman Jones and carried unanimously. Besides this, an ordinance was passed establishing a city chain gang, which authorizes the marshal to attach a ball and chain and shackles to evil doers whenever it becomes necessary. Besides crediting several accounts the marshal's report was received, which showed that he had collected $129.00 for the month of September.

Mr. Packard of Turkey Hill, came in last Monday and dropped another dollar in the Nugget's slot. As you all know here this is one of the jolliest and cleverest old gentlemen in the county and just as industrious as a bee.

The wife of "Beat" Davis, col., was adjudged a lunatic here last Tuesday. The first discovery of her mind being effected was in a church a short time ago where she began shouting and then cursed, and since that time has had to be tied.

Under the present law when a state pensioner dies her widow has to make the same proof that her husband did, and often are unable to do it on account of witnesses either moving away or dying. This law should be changed. If the husband is entitled, the widow surely is and all she ought to have to do is to be identified as the wife of the deceased pensioner.

Last Tuesday was the regular monthly meeting day of the Board of Education of this county but none was held on account of a quorum not being present. Some of the members of the board seem to take but little interest in the matter. The two new ones that were appointed at the last term of the Superior court have never yet attended a single meeting.

Gen. Warner is in the East again on business.

The Nuggeters for Half Way, Ga., got on the wrong route last Friday and went to Gainesville where they were returned and sent to their destination Tuesday.

As I expect to change my business on the first of November I wish all parties owing me by note or account to come forward and settle at once.

Oh, what a glorious season this is for country printers. Turnip salad, "fatty" bread, ginger cakes made from good home made syrup and plenty of green apple pies.

Talk about good health, we saw two country ladies carrying a sack of 25 pounds of flour each, start off in the rain last Saturday to walk to their homes a distance of ten miles.

Rev. Mr. Barnwell of Cumming, Ga., preached at the Baptist church here last Sunday and was listened to by a large and attentive congregation. The members seem to be well pleased with Mr. Barnwell and it is likely that he will be called to preach for them in a few days.

Don't forget the fact that every day is a sale day from now until the finish. Bargains at every turn. Dozens of people have been taking advantage of our unprecedented offer and saying big money—why not you? No matter what you want, every price is a money saving opportunity—every offer a bargain not to be had elsewhere.

Mr. J. E. McGee now occupies the stand in the Masonic Hall, formerly used by Mr. M. J. Williams. And Mr. J. S. Miss Eva McKee of Dahlgren, was in town Tuesday getting up pupils for the Dawsonville High School, of which she has been chosen principal. Miss McKee is a graduate of the N. G. A. College, is an excellent teacher, and will make one of the best principals our school has ever had.—Advertiser.

Last week Drs. Wheelchel, Stow and Hand went down and removed the pieces of skull from the head of Robert Chambers, who was accidentally struck with a rock by his brother, which was intended for another man. He is in a dangerous condition. If the hole in his skull was round you could place a hen's egg in it.

The ladies had an ice cream festival at the court house last Saturday evening for the benefit of the Baptist church. The proceeds amounted to about $35. After it was over the young people went over to the old Burnside Hotel and enjoyed themselves dancing. It is not often you hear of festivals being held for the benefit of a church to end in a dance. But it seems that this one did.

Uncle "Turkey" Bill Postell has commenced a suit against his wife for a divorce, for the reason that she won't live with him, which looks like a pretty good one. While it was expected that he would draw a pension from Uncle Sam the ties of friendship for Uncle Bill by his wife seemed to be very strong but when the money failed to come the cord snapped and the old man was again left alone in the world with no one to comfort or love him in his declining years.

It was intended to have a two day's basket meeting at old Cedar Mountain camp ground, beginning last Saturday, but on that day it rained them out and they had to suspend until Sunday. For many years Cedar Mountain was one of the leading camp grounds of this mountain section but some of the tent holders decided to abandon it and start one nearer town which is called Dahlgren, but it has never yet attracted the interest that old Cedar Mountain did.

The Atlanta concern, proposing to build a trolley line from that city through this place to Cornelia, made application to the ordinary of this county last week for a franchise through the county, but it was refused upon the grounds that they wanted the right to all bridges and roads, saying nothing about paying damages. It is an enterprise desired by all, but some one has to be responsible for damages that might occur. The county can't afford to shoulder this responsibility. With a modification the way will be no trouble about getting a franchise in this county.

New corn is retailing here at 65 cents per bushel.

A little child of Mr. Newman McDougald was buried out at Mt. Hope cemetery last Sunday.

It rained heavy on Saturday but cleared off that night and Sunday was a beautiful, sunny day, allowing all who wished, to attend Yellow Creek camp meeting.

Prof. Gaillard's house is now lit up by electricity and some of the citizens over on West view are going to do likewise. The Consolidated plant is now giving good service in this particular.

If those two lovers don't quit meeting down in the Methodist church lot between twelve and one o'clock at night people will get to talking about them, for it is a little late for ladies to be out.

Mr. Frank Reese left out this week for a visit down the country of a few days, when he will return with his wife who has been absent on a trip of some weeks to her parents at Sparta, Ga.

Monday afternoon Dr. Wheelchel was called across the Blue Ridge, a distance of 22 miles, to see a patient. Crossing this big mountain after dark is a risky business, yet he went and returned all right.

Just received at Price & Reese's a new shipment of Queen Quality shoes. Also children's school shoes. And a full line of ladies and gents underwear. Come and get fitted up for the winter season. We will please you in both prices and goods.

One young man from some where below, came up Friday afternoon to enter college here, but he returned the next day. He said he "liked the place and people but was foolish." We guess if the truth was known he left a sweetheart behind.

Mr. W. H. Reed of Yaboola was down last Saturday consulting the physicians here about his failing eyesight. Some time ago he went blind in one eye and the sight of the other has gradually been growing weaker for the past two months. They could do him no good here.

At the old Cedar Mountain Camp ground Sunday Rev. J. N. Atstin preached from the same text that he did there twenty seven years ago. Some were present that heard his first sermon while many that were present on the other occasion have long since crossed over the river.

Our citizens should all burn out their chimneys while the roofs are wet, for fear the soot in them catches fire some dry time and setting the roofs. This is the greatest danger we have here. There are but little insurance and even if there was everybody should be careful about fire.

James Edmonson has made out an account against the county for $2.50, amount charged for shaving Mr. Noel Weaver who died at this place recently and had to be buried at the expense of the county. This shows that it costs a man something extra to die as well as to live in a town or city. The account has not yet been approved by Judge Huff.

Our sanctum was visited this week by Mr. L. G. Stowers and Mr. Teasley. The former is the farmer that furnishes this market with hundreds of bushels of corn and the other gentleman runs the Hager dredge boat, that is when it is in operation. For the last five or six weeks this boat has been hung up on almost dry land and can't get away until it rains.

Mining Notes.

One of the members of the Briar Patch Co. has been down this week with other gentlemen looking over the property.

Johnson and Riley, at work on the Standard property, made another good clean up last week, being 276 pennyweights with the labor of three hands only.

More hands were added at the Copper Mine in this county first of the week. The large shaft is down about 40 feet and the material being taken out is good.

It was the intention of Gen. Warner, president of the Crown Mountain Co., to start up the mine this month but the rainfall has not been sufficient for the power.

The water has not been high enough yet for the Hager boat to be moved, only liking about four or five inches at one time. What a pity that such a well paying enterprise as this has to be idle.

Mr. Jaquish of the Etowah Gold Mining and Milling Co. has several hands doing prospecting work on his property near Auraria, with the intention of starting up his mine on a large scale at an early day.

Things are growing more active down at the Singleton on the Standard property. Mr. Ainsley, the new president, is still here giving things his personal attention. Some good ore is being taken out, keeping a portion of the Singleton mill running regularly.

Some parties are expecting to go out in a few days to examine the property on which manganese was discovered a few years ago in this county—one place near the foot of the Blue Ridge and at two other places nearer Dahlgren. That near the mountain belongs to the Consolidated Co., at which place development work will likely begin at once.

In speaking of the Turkey Hill, we some times get the mill and lift mixed up. The mill is not running, only placer digging by a lift. Mr. Packard informs us that the ground he has been working has been gone over twice before and yet he often strikes rich streaks of gold in the crevices of the slate. A crop is growing on the now ground which he does not want to molest until it is gathered.

Mr. W. B. Fry has been engaged for several days on Black Mountain, doing prospecting work for coal and we are glad to state that he is highly pleased with the outlook. He is following the black streak which shows pieces of coal and looks as if it will lead to something good. Mr. Fry knows all about coal mines and says the prospects here are very bright. We were shown a good size piece of coal last Tuesday that was found more than fifteen feet below the surface. There are six hands engaged. The company organized for the purpose of developing it is composed of the following gentlemen, to-wit: Cols. W. A. Charters, W. S. Huff, Dr. Wheelchel, Messrs. H. D. Gurley, H. D. Ingersoll, H. B. Crawford, J. F. Moore, of Dahlgren, and Mr. Joseph Caldwell of Porter Springs.

The Etowah Gold Mining Co., which received its charter to work, what is known here as the Betz Mine, had an incorporators meeting at its principal office in the Price building at this place last Monday, for the purpose of organizing. Col. W. P. Price, Sr., was elected chairman and W. J. Worley, secretary. Directors: W. Jos. Harn, M. D., Francis Shunk Brown, Jos. R. H. Whetstone, Wm. C. Keane, Jr., Jos. von Neida, Hon. Wm. C. Spraul, Jr., H. Nichols, Col. W. P. Price, Sr., Jos. De Forest Junkin. All of Philadelphia except Col. Price of Dahlgren. A meeting will be held at Philadelphia right away, for the purpose of electing a president and such other officers as is necessary, and then work will be gin at the mine on a large scale with new improved mills and up to date machinery.

THE PHI MU SOCIETY, N. G. A. COLLEGE.

In 1878 the Phi Mu Literary was organized under the leadership of Choice B. Randall, who is now a member of congress, from the great state of Texas. There were about eighteen charter members. The society was nurtured by the men who gave it birth, and steadily increased in numbers and in power. It became, immediately upon organization, an important auxiliary to the college and has contributed materially to the success of the institution. Its record is one of which its members throughout the state are justly proud. In all contests, although she has not been the winner in every case, here men have acquitted themselves with credit. The outlook for this year is very hopeful. She has received a number of new men who are taking a prominent part in the literary exercises. The public is cordially invited to visit the Hall at any time they feel so disposed.

His Misbehaved Limb.

"A cork leg is no end of a bore," said the man who limped. "Just think of it! I was at a dinner party the other night and it was my happy lot to have a most charming damsel fall to my share at the feast. We conversed most pleasantly through the oysters and the soup, but when the fish came on she became silent and seemed unaccountably embarrassed. To draw her from this mood I redoubled my efforts to please, but in response she only flinched and looked angry. Finally, interrupting me in the midst of a little not which I had composed carefully while dressing for the dinner, she said, sotto voce:

"I'll thank you to stop squeezing my foot!"

"Imagine my embarrassment! I had been treading upon her toes with my cork foot—of course without knowing it. It is an annoying thing to have to explain to a young lady at a social festivity. Nevertheless I was forced to do so. She accepted my apology and then proceeded to injure my feelings by giggling."

Jewelry is a disease, according to an eminent French doctor. It is intermittent, like chills and fever, and may be as successfully treated medically as those ailments are. The successful course of treatment, he says, must include those things that give strength and self-confidence to the patient. It seems, therefore, that the time is coming when the jealous husband or wife will be told, "O, go and take a pill, and you will forget all about it." And thus heart burnings and tragedies may be saved.

A Letter From Texas.

MR. EDITOR:

After an absence of a few long months I will drift homeward and beg admittance into your happy land of fair flowers. I will give you a short sketch of my trip to the West: I left Gaddistown, in Union county, Georgia, on Sept. 2, 1901, and arrived here on the 6th and located in Ellis county, near Waxahachie, Tex., after traveling through sand and roughs over rocks, hills, canyons, mountains and every other kind of rough roads, making a distance of 1250 miles, then I arrived upon the beautiful prairie called the plains. It was a pleasing sight to me for the first time in life where I could scarcely see any timber and to gaze upon the herds of cattle too numerous to try to keep account of and to see the level ground covered with green grass. Ellis county geographically centers Texas, being located in the black waxy belt of the state. The greater portion of the county is the rich, black waxy soil, which will produce anything. Fine crops of cotton are raised here almost without scarcely any ruin, a bale per acre, and also fine crops of millet, sorghum, barley, rye, &c., are grown, in fact it is the garden spot of the world for a farmer, as a man can cultivate 100 acres easily. It requires no fertilizing. This is a country for the farmer, but not the stock raiser, as the land is too valuable for farming purposes to raise stock on. This county is considered exceedingly healthy. Fine schools and churches are to be found all over the county.

I have met with lots of good people since arriving here. They have been kind to me. Laving the fine country aside I have a good little wife and children in old Georgia that I expect to go to see soon, that I think more of than I do the state of Texas.

I will close for this time. Wishing you and all of my friends much success. I am

Yours Respectfully,
W. S. CHASTAIN,

Bardwell, Tex.

Twice before The Citizen has said the state of Georgia was paying too many pensions. Several times this matter has been made the subject of legislative talk. It has risen to nearly one million dollars—as much as all the states in the South pay together. There are too many incompetent circumstances drawing this "paw" and it is a shame. We insist that the state take good care of her indigent soldiers and widows, but no more. We hope Governor Terrell will call the attention of the next legislature to this.—Dalton Citizen.

A Good Story.

The following good story is going the rounds of the press: A wealthy man was about to die and his physicians advised him to make his will. He accordingly sent out after a lawyer and when the lawyer got through writing the will, the sick man asked how much was the bill. He replied "8300." The sick man told him to come and kneel down by the bedside. Then he turned and asked the doctor how much was his bill. The doctor replied "500." The sick man told him to come and kneel on the opposite side of the bed. "Now," say he, "I have the pleasure of dying like my Savior died between two thieves."

The Elder Brother Lives Longer.

Your elder brother or sister will enjoy a longer life than yourself. Examination of thousand pairs of brothers and the same number of pairs of sisters revealed the fact that the elder brother had an average life of six years more than the younger, while in the case of the girls the excess was slightly less. These figures do not prove that the younger will die before the elder. It may be that there is a difference of ten years between the dates of birth, so that your elder brother, although having a longer life, may die before you.

One of the unpleasant duties of a clergyman's life is to make announcements from the pulpit, short and concise as they should be. Here is an example of a funny mistake made by a pastor not long since.

Next Tuesday evening, on the lawn in front of the church will be held an ice cream festival. All the ladies giving milk will please meet me immediately after this service in the Sunday school room.

A Peculiar River.

Unique properties are possessed by the river Tinto, in Spain. It petrifies the sand of its bed, and if a stone falls in the stream and alights upon another, in a few months they unite and become one stone. Fish cannot live in its waters.

An Illinois man was recently arrested for failure to pay a board bill contracted while seeking employment in Indiana. The case was, however, dismissed when the testimony showed that he was 98 years of age and was the father of thirty-two daughters, all living and dependent upon him.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Cured
My Wife.

Dr. Miles' Nervine has been successfully tried in thousands of cases of nervous disorders, but never has it made a better record than when used in the treatment of fits or spasms. Thousands of testimonials prove this, and in nearly every instance the writer has stated that the fits ceased after the first dose of Nervine was given. The statement is repeated in the following:

"Seven years ago my wife commenced having spasms or fits and I called in my home physician and he said she was paralyzed. He rubbed her with salt water and gave her calomel and she eventually got some better, but in a short time she had another attack. She was confined to her bed for three months and the doctor could not help her. She had fits frequently, some times very severe. Her hands frequently, so we could not open them and she finally got so her jaws would become locked. Finally I saw the doctor was doing her no good and ordered a bottle of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. It relieved so much benefit from the first bottle that I got some more. She has taken a number of bottles but has never had a fit since taking the first dose. She also thinks very highly of Dr. Miles' Nervine and Liver Pills and is never without them. If there is any way of making this testimonial stronger do so because of the good Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine did my wife."—WM. V. ALLEN, P. M., Elkville, Miss.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, OCTOBER 17, 1902.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

The legislature convenes next Wednesday.

There will be eleven newspaper men in the next legislature.

E. W. Fishy, a printer dropped dead one day last week in the Albany (Ga.) Star office while at work.

The Georgia Company's cotton factory at Gainesville, was opened again Tuesday with Dr. R. E. Green as manager.

The oil fire at Beaumont, Texas, last week was extinguished, however, not before the damages amounted to $150,000.

It is estimated that the guard expenses at the mines in Pennsylvania where the strike occurred in May, has cost $1,000,000.

There are already a number of candidates for door keeper of the next general assembly, among them being several old soldiers.

The fifteen hundred tillers of the soil attending the National Farmers Convention in Macon last week made the place quite lively.

The negroes of Alabama, thank President Roosevelt for appointing a democrat district attorney instead of a "lily white" republican.

John W. Bell has resigned as deputy sheriff of Hall county because he says he cannot maintain his self respect and continue with the present alleged officers.

The biggest single hay crop ever grown in Dougherty county is that which has just been gathered by Mr. N. J. Croges on his plantation near Albany, containing 500 tons.

At Bridgeton, N. J., last Thursday while Joseph Blossom was soldering canned Lima beans at the Norwich canning factory, his foot slipped and he fell headlong in a vat and was scalded to death.

At Cleveland, Ohio last week a man died believing that he had swallowed his false teeth after being operated on by a number of doctors. Afterwards his teeth were found under the bed and buried with him.

Last week 30 corpses were found in an ice cream establishment at Louisville. The Medical college had made a deal with the ice cream men to keep them cool and they were carrying out the contract until caught up with.

The next Georgia legislature will be composed entirely of white men. McKay, the negro who represented Liberty county in the last legislature was defeated this time by R. H. Hendry, a democrat. Three cheers for Liberty and her new representative.

Independence in Lumpkin county has exhausted its strength and will never more try to rise. Mr. West, who made the race on the independent ticket, says he is going to join the democrats next time, and Mr. Stancil, the other defeated candidate for sheriff, is going out west and seek a new home.

We understand that a certain democrat who scratched one of the names on the last democratic ticket, anticipates running for an office two years from now. He cannot expect anything else but the present golden rule applied to his case: "Do unto others as they do unto you," by leaving his name off too.

We notice those who scratched some of the democrats from their ticket at the last election, talk as much like true democrats as they can, but all this will be remembered against them in the day to come, and don't you forget it. The time to work is during the battle. It's too late now to talk about what "we've done."

Philip Cook Secretary of state led the ticket in the recent election.

Representative-elect Ben Nussbaum of Deacon county, dropped dead at Bainbridge last Friday.

The trolley strike in New Orleans has been settled and the cars are running once more.

At Philadelphia the fuel famine is being relieved by thousands of persons burning bricks soaked in oil.

Mayor James Pendleton of Gentry, Mo., was last week sent to the penitentiary five years for bigamy.

It is stated that the foremost English labor chieftain says that no coal shall be sent to America from British Isles.

Col. Alf Herrington of Swainsboro, lectured at the College Chapel here last Saturday evening to a very good audience.

The great Pennsylvania coal strike is about to be settled by the operators agreeing to submit to the decision of a commission to be appointed by the president of the United States.

Clara Chum, a negro who was jealous of her husband residing at Griffin, Ga., undertook to thin out her enemies by putting poison in their flour at a restaurant the other day, causing six to be dangerously sick.

In the next general assembly there will be 2 populists, 3 republicans and 3 independents, none of whom can accomplish anything in a democratic legislature and will almost be like a knot on a tree. Thirty-seven members of the last house have been re-elected.

Thousands of people witnessed the execution of Henry Jones, colored at Elberton last Friday for an assault upon a prominent white woman. The gallows was in a valley giving the people on the surrounding hills a chance to see this fiend pay the penalty.

In this county at the last election one of the democratic executive committee scratched his ticket and another didn't come out at all, and still they call themselves good democrats. Won't they be remembered should either offer himself for office on the democratic ticket hereafter.

The state sanitarium at Mill, edgeville is still crowded. The number of inmates at present is 2,395, and there are on file applications for 282 whites and 108 colored. The cost of feeding inmates is 30 cents a day each. The legislature will be asked to appropriate $340,000 for 1898 and $360,000 for 1904.

The prison commissioner's report shows that there are 2,315 convicts in the Georgia penitentiary. About every profession is represented except the lawyer and newspaper man. The presence of neither grace its walls. The largest number are laborers, being 1,028, the next largest farmers, 690, 1,048 are married. Only 1,084 are able to read and write. There are 2,098 convicts who are serving their first term, 195 who are serving their second term, 20 who are serving their third term, 6 who are serving their fourth term, 4 who are serving their fifth term, and one who is serving his sixth term.

The Savannah News takes note of the fact that the scarcity and high prices of coal have set the people in various parts of the country to searching for substitute fuels. In two counties of Massachusetts the manufacture of briquets for peat has been begun. Near Chicago peat has been cut and dried for fuel. In the outlying districts of Rochester the board sidewalks are being torn up at night and carried away to be burned. In Warren county, New Jersey, the farmers are gathering hickory nuts and acorns and saving their corn cobs to be burned in their grates. In Kansas and Nebraska many farmers will burn corn this winter. In various places crude oil is being introduced as fuel.

Public School Roll of Honor

The following is the public school roll of honor for the month ending, September 27, to-wit:

To obtain a place on the roll of honor pupils must obtain an average of E (not below 90) in studies and attendance, and must be perfect in deportment.

First Grade—Section I—Nannie Duckett, Edwin Roberts, Lizzie Butler.

Section II—Frank Gurley, Willie Chester.

Third Grade—2nd Section—Josie McDonald, Willie Ricketts, Bertie Wimpy.

Third Grade—1st Section—Birdie Anderson, Mary Stanton, Tom Huff, Paul Brookshire, Mamie Harbison, Nannie McAfee, Lelia Rex, Ruth Russell, John Bortfield, Mand Ricketts.

Fourth Grade—Alice Stewart, Mattie Craig, Louis Meaders, Mattie Harbison.

Fifth Grade—Frances Stanton. Sixth Grade—Pearl Anderson, Isabelle Charters.

A WORD TO PARENTS.

Parents will greatly aid the teachers in the advancement of their children by giving special attention to the reports of pupils standing issued at the end of each month, and by giving their children needed stimulation and encouragement. These reports are based on a carefully kept record of the daily class work and examinations of the pupils, and afford an accurate estimate of each pupil's school standing. It is urged that parents do all in their power to secure to their children the proper conditions and incentives for study at home, manifest particular interest in their progress, and stimulate them by both compulsion and encouragement to the best work possible. The teachers are doing all they can to secure the advancement of every child in their care, but without the aid of parents satisfactory results cannot be accomplished. In most cases, the dull or backward pupil is the one who is not required or encouraged to study at home.

Respectfully
J. M. MARTIN,
Prin.

The Chattahoochee Association.

LANDRUM, GA., Oct. 13, 1902. The seventy eighth annual session of the Chattahoochee Baptist Association, held with Harmony church, has just closed, and it is said to have been one of the most pleasant and profitable sessions held by this body. However, the weather was not all that could have been desired, and the attendance from our own membership was very small.

Report on the State of Religion, Missions, Temperance, Christian Education and Sunday Schools were adopted and the subjects ably discussed. A resolution was passed, asking for $1,000 for State Missions for the ensuing year, and pledges were received to the amount of $99.50. In the cause of Christian education, the sum of $500 was asked for the benefit of the Concord High School, and various pledges were taken; but we are not apprised of the exact amount. We are glad to see that our people are advancing along all these lines. There was no preaching until Sunday. Rev. T. L. Robinson preached at 10 a. m., Rev. C. T. Brown delivered the missionary sermon at 11 a. m., and Rev. Mr. DeVoss of Cumming, preached at 2 p. m.

BONE FOOD

Soft and crooked bones mean bad feeding. Call the disease rickets if you want to. The growing child must eat the right food for growth. Bones must have bone food, blood must have blood food and so on through the list.

Scott's Emulsion is the right treatment for soft bones in children. Little doses everyday give the stiffness and shape that healthy bones should have.

Bow legs become straighter, loose joints grow stronger and firmness comes to the soft heads.

Wrong food caused the trouble. Right food will cure it. In thousands of cases Scott's Emulsion has proven to be the right food for soft bones in childhood.

Rev. J. F. Bahler of Texas, who was in Atlanta last week, claimed that he has a new set of eye balls coming back. Taking the place of the others that were removed by the surgeons some time ago, and the sight is being restored. It looks impossible but he is a minister and ought to be a truthful man.

The last issue of the Cherokee Advance was very newsy and bright. It is now in the hands of brother W. G. McNeley, an old newspaper man, explains it.

Crazed by pondering over an appliance for an airplane young Charles Gaway of Pittsburg, brained mother, sisters and brothers with an ax one night last week while all were asleep. He first killed his mother and sister who were sleeping together, then he struck each one of the children with the bloody weapon and started for his grown brother's room, who had arose and was coming to see what so much groaning meant when he met the crazy man and after a great struggle overpowered him and turned him over to the officers.

The teamsters went down to Gainesville last week to haul the dynamo for the Chestate power plant but the weather was too unfavorable and they were sent back home till Monday.

The scarcity of feed in this county two or three years ago has caused our farmers since that time to save all the hay and pea vines possible and but little money will have to be sent out of the county for hay this winter and next spring.

You will hear some people crying out hard times, and say that the merchants of Dahlonega sell goods too high, but still they will give from two to three dollars for a gallon of liquor, or if they can't get that, pay one dollar for a bottle of Peruna to drink as a beverage and never say a word about the price.

About all the roads in the county are worked ready for court, and the grand jury will likely say as usual, that they are in very good condition. But how long have they been that way? Only a few days. If court didn't convene but once in four years some of them would not be touched until just before it met.

Some ice Wednesday morning.

Mr. J. E. Tate has been taking in the fair at Atlanta this week as well as other things of interest in that great city.

Hon. G. D. Bruce left for Atlanta to-day to be ready to begin his labors in the legislature when it opens.

Some fifteen or twenty moonshiners from Lumpkin county will have their cases disposed of in the U. S. Court in Atlanta to-day and to-morrow.

Mr. Chambers, who got his skull crushed at Auraria during the election, is getting along much better than was expected by improving rapidly.

Mr. Breyman while here last week received a dispatch stating that one of his dredge boats had sunk at the Boston harbor and he left at once to look after it.

Mrs. Wallace Rogers and Mrs. Edwards of Norcross, Ga., have been up this week to our city, in the interest of Home and Foreign Missions. Mrs. Rogers is secretary of the Home Missionary society and Mrs. Edwards secretary of the other.

Col. Farrow writes us that he will assist in the adjustment of the mails so the patrons of Willow and Gate's post offices, in this county, can get their county papers before they are a week old. The Colonel is ever ready to lend a helping hand in good mail service.

Those interested, inform us that the people of Gainesville have already contracted for more than 5,800 lights from the Electric Company and in the near future that city will be ablaze with electric lights. Gainesville is a progressive city and is building up faster than any other place in Georgia.

It was our intention to reproduce several more cuts of the college societies and other things of interest concerning this institution but the halftone electors are too fine to print well except on extra fine paper, and do not show up good after a few hundred impressions on common paper like that we use in printing the Nugget.

Last week several of the moonshiners of this section, having cases in the U. S. court for violating the internal revenue laws, were disposed of as follows: Jacob Larmon of Dawson county, sentenced to 18 months in the penitentiary, Hunter Crane, same county, was given 4 months and a hundred dollars fine. The rest from Lumpkin: Pres Clark 6 months and a hundred dollars fine, Lewis Black 4 months and fine and John Lingerfelt 5 months and fine.

We had a visit this week from Rev. Jasper Wooten of Norcross, Ga., for the first time in about seventeen years. Mr. Wooten used to live in Dahlonega and we have all glad to see him in our city once more. The pulpit at the Baptist church was occupied by this able divine on Sunday and Sunday night and his sermons were listened to by a large and attentive congregation both times. He has spent the week in going round meeting his old friends. On Sunday and Sunday night Mr. Wooten will again occupy the pulpit at the Baptist church and on Tuesday following take his departure.

Court is in session at White this week and while Solicitor-General Charters was here on Sunday he informed us that the case against Robert Long, charged with murder in Lumpkin county, might go over until the spring term of our Superior court on account of the absence of important witnesses, Long being out on bond any way. Clark, the eye witness to the killing of his brother-in-law, is now serving out a sentence in Fulton county jail for blockading, and other important witnesses in this case may reach there too before next week, making it most too expensive to have them brought up unless the defendant was in jail.

Col. Baker is attending the Mayor's convention in Atlanta this week, accompanied by his wife.

Mr. Bishop, one of Frog Town district's oldest and most highly respected citizens, passed away at 7 o'clock on Wednesday of last week.

Next week is court here. The latch to our office door has a good stout string to it which hangs on the outside ready for our friends to pull.

Prof. Wilber Calvin, formerly professor of Greek in the N. G. A. College at Dahlonega, was last week elected president of the Normal Institute at Cornelia, Ga.

If you are not already taking the Nugget, drop in next week while attending court and subscribe to one of the most wide awake weekly papers in Georgia.

Some yet doubt Black Mountain, in this county, containing coal, nevertheless they are on a coal streak and occasionally finding pieces of it from fifteen to seventeen feet below the surface. This should be enough to convince all doubting ones.

A committee from Oak Grove church, is soliciting subscriptions for the purpose of raising enough money to add ten feet more to the church, which will make it 40 feet in length. Nothing helps a country more than good churches and school houses, the larger the better.

Three car loads of rails for the lower end of the Gainesville & Dahlonega Electric Railway arrived last week, and the cross ties are all ready to be laid. The dynamo is now being hauled to the plant, on Chestate river. The base weighs 22,500, 6,000 lbs. more than the one at the Consolidated Gold Mining plant.

Four young men of Dahlonega, anxious to see a circus, drove down to Gainesville on Thursday afternoon of last week to see the big elephant and bare back riders &c., but when they reached the place they were very much disappointed to learn that a circus was not there nor even heard in that direction—only a horse swapping convention.

Parents, you are doing wrong when you take your children away from school when they have to be whipped by the teacher. If you do not want them punished for violating the rules of the school they may go on from bad to worse and learn to violate the laws of the country and then you will regret it but it will then be too late.

You people of Lumpkin will doubtless see that some of the merchants of Gainesville propose to give you a pound or two of sugar more for a dollar than home merchants do and a little more coffee, but remember that it is twenty five miles away and they don't take wood for these articles, nor sell them on a credit. Trade with those that help you in time of need.

Last Friday was Road Commissioner's court for this district, Hon. G. D. Bruce and one of the Mr. Wimpys presiding. Two defaulters had been cited before them to show cause why they hadn't performed road duty, but as they produced receipts purporting to be given by a road overseer over in Pickens county to the effect that they had worked the roads in that county, the matter was postponed for two weeks so the officials could see if this was true or not.

Mr. Stancil, the defeated independent candidate for sheriff, has stopped his Nugget and is going West. He has our best wishes. We never fall out with a man because he differs with us politically, and if one does with us it is all right. Now when the journey of life is over and we are fortunate enough to find the way to that world not made with hands and Mr. Stancil reaches there too we will divide time with him on the golden harp with a thousand strings and enjoy his company just as if no political fight had occurred between us here below.

Miss Myers has gone to spend a week in Atlanta.

The painter is engaged on Mrs. Craig's house.

Mr. H. D. Gurley went down to Atlanta Wednesday.

Dr. Jones and Hon. W. H. McAfee went down to Atlanta today.

The little child of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Roberts died last Tuesday night.

Mr. W. R. Crisson has moved out into the country near the long tubes.

Miss Bessie Asbury left to-day for Palestine, Texas, to be gone some five or six months.

Mr. Paul Castleberry left for Birmingham, Ala., this week to accept a position in a store.

Col. Bryson has moved his law office in the old Hall House building, next door above the bank.

Constable Carroll and sheriff Davis have charge of the town during Marshal Harbison's absence in Atlanta.

Mrs. J. F. Moore and her daughter, Miss Irene, spent several days in Atlanta this week, visiting relatives.

The students have organized a base ball team and play on Monday while there is no college exercises.

Mrs. R. F. Wheelchel left for Anniston, Ala., today to visit Mrs. John Wheelchel who is sick with typhoid fever.

The commissions and blank bonds for county officers have been received at the ordinary's office, ready for signatures.

There are about 25 students staying at the mess hall at the old Dahlonega Hotel. They live fat and saucy and have a lively time.

We printed the Minutes of the Union Association this week which will be ready for distribution as soon as Secretary Harbison returns from Atlanta.

Dr. Wheelchel's oldest little boy was painfully injured last Tuesday by a large gate falling on it down home which he was opening for his father to drive through.

Printers have their liquor expressed to them here in jugs while that purchased by church members and other prominent persons come closely boxed and marked ammonia.

Mr. Harbison received a letter from Judge Gaston of Gainesville, last Monday, stating that his son, John, who was expected to die with fever in Alabama a few days ago, is getting well.

Mr. R. F. Wheelchel, "of this place, received a letter from his son John in Anniston, Ala., stating that his wife was sick, supposed to be the fever and he himself was not well. Mr. Wheelchel has lost a son and two daughters since they moved from Dahlonega to Alabama, and when he hears of any of the rest being sick it causes him much uneasiness.

The funeral of Mrs. Cain, who died a few months ago at Porter Springs district a short time after she was one hundred years of age, was preached at Rock Spring last Sunday by Rev. W. G. Spencer of Grace, Ga. A large congregation was present. Rev. Mr. Spencer, a brother to the minister before mentioned, was also present and preached. He left here during the war and we believe this is his first trip back since his departure. 54 years ago last August, he professed religion at this old church which he says was established in 1837.

City Marshal Harbison is attending court in Atlanta this week.

Mining Notes.

They are moving right ahead at the Gorge, getting the flumes ready through which the water will flow until the dam can be constructed.

The Benning is in full blast again. The big heavy shots at this mine sound to old soldiers like cannonading during the war. It is hard and requires much ammunition to move it.

Mr. H. D. Jaquish, who is now operating his mine at Auraria, was in town Saturday and Sunday. He stated that the prospects are very flattering, and he thinks the mine will yield well.—Gainesville News.

Messrs. Griffin & McDonald Bros. are taking out some 40 or 50 tons of ore on the Boley Field's property, which will be hauled to the Singleton mill and crushed. Later on they will resume work in search of the Field's vein as soon as preparations can be made to pump the water out by steam. They are moving things with a vim over at the copper mine in this county. About 25 hands are employed, a saw mill is running right on the grounds and the shaft has reached a depth of nearly 60 feet, and the ore is splendid. It consists of over a thousand acres, and is located about 5 miles east of Dahlonega on the line of the Gainesville & Dahlonega Railroad, which is now being built. The tract covers the vein in a wide belt on each side of the outcrop, and extends a total distance of about three miles running with the vein, thus taking in all of its possible extensions either way. A considerable amount of money has been in underground development work and diamond drilling. The prospecting covered a distance of about 2500 feet on the vein, with the result that an average width of about twenty-eight feet of ore was exposed from wall to wall. The mine is owned by Atlanta and Savannah men. The ore is a very high grade of iron pyrites and gold, which is said to be unusual of this character east of the Rockies. The company has a competent mining force sinking and timbering a large working shaft of three compartments, and preparations are going on to develop the mine to its full limit of production. The company anticipates having its main working shaft completed ready to market its ores by the time the railroad is ready to receive freight. Both in its management and in its engineering connections it has the advantage of experienced and well known men. Mr. E. G. Spillsbury Engineering Co., New York, is the company's consulting engineer. The vein is said to give promise of ranking with the largest pyrites producing veins in the United States, and it is particularly interesting because of its considerable copper and gold contents.

A Word to The Merchants of Dahlonega.

N. G. A. COLLEGE, 10-10 '02. ED. NUGGET:

I have had so many requests from parents urging me not to allow their sons to make debts that I take this method of again asking the merchants and others, not to credit boys under age without permission, in writing, from their parents. I am keeping funds for about thirty parents and I cannot pay any debts made by their boys. I have money to pay cash for what their parents wish them to have.

One mother wrote me this week asking me "to say to the merchants and others that if they allow him to make bills they must not look to her for the money. The reason I write this is he has been away to school before and I had trouble of this kind. If I am unsuccessful in this matter I shall have to keep him from college."

J. S. STEWART,

Graduates in Courtship.

Tennesseans know how to get married, and are equally wise concerning the art of staying married. Matrimony is a state in which they are not slow to enter or quick to abandon.

The first thing a man wants to do in Tennessee is to get married. The inducements are so great here. There are pretty girls everywhere and there are good wives everywhere, but the maids and matrons of Tennessee have divided male society in two classes—the fortunate and the unfortunate—that is, the married and the unmarried.

No man can live single and be satisfied here, and there are no voluntary bachelors in the state. No school of courtship is required in Tennessee, for here it comes natural the simplest swain, and the young fellow that can't talk somewhat manages to accomplish the very best results. The Tennessee girl is most attracted by him whose love for her makes him uncomfortable and foolish, and often, very often, perspiration is more effective than eloquence.

Love is not an accomplishment, but an inherent impulse in Tennessee. No school is required to teach it, because everybody is a professor.—Memphis News.

An Essay on Editors.

Newspapers are sheets of paper on which matter is printed. The men look over it to see if their names are in it. I don't know how newspapers came into the world. The Bible says nothing about editors, and I have never heard of one's being in heaven. The first editor I ever heard of was one who wrote up the flood. He has been here every since.

Options. Some editors belonging to the church and some try to raise the dickens in their neighborhoods. Some times the paper dies, then the people feel glad, but some one starts it up again. Editors never went to school, because editors never got licked. Our paper is a mighty poor one, but we take it so ma can use it on her pantry shelves. Our editor don't amount to much, but paw said he had a poor chance when he was a boy. He goes without underclothes in the winter, wears no socks and has a wife to support him. Paw has not paid his subscription in years and don't intend to.—Dawson News.

"Lo, the poor Indian" will hardly apply to the Osage tribe of Oklahoma. According to the New York Press, they have $8,000,000 cash on deposit in Washington and own 1,500,000 acres of land, worth another $8,000,000. Their realty holdings give a per capita wealth of $4,000 for every brave, squaw and papoose in the tribe. The interest on their money in Washington affords annually a little over $300 to each member, old middle-aged and young. This makes the Osages the richest people in the world.

Snow has already fallen in Colorado and Montana, and on the other side of the ocean snow has been reported in Germany and as far South as Italy. How fortunate it is that we of the South Atlantic section live in so favored a climate; especially in view of the coal situation.—Savannah news.

A Newark, N. J., court is wrestling with the weighty problem whether the action of a young man in kissing a young woman in a park, in the broad daylight, the act being not resisted or resented by the young woman, can be legally construed as disorderly conduct on the part of both.

The Southwestern office of the Armour Fruit Express Department at Sherman, Texas, used 2000 refrigerator cars this season in handling Texas fruits and vegetables.

The attempt to run the street cars in New Orleans last week, caused a clash between the strikers and police, and a good deal of blood was shed. Women and children took a hand in the fight.

GEORGIA CROP REPORT

Issued by State Agricultural Department.

COMPARISON OF CONDITIONS.

Some Counties Report Crops Unusually Fine, but the Great Majority Say They Are Considerably Below the Average.

The crop report from the Georgia department of agriculture represents the crop as it stood in the field Aug. 20, 1902. It is made up from nearly a thousand blanks sent out into different sections of each county to parties who are considered capable of giving the desired information concerning the conditions and prospects of the crops in their neighborhood. Most of these were returned with the desired information.

The conditions t. a year have been peculiar. Over large areas of the state hot, dry winds have prevailed, affecting very materially the condition and prospects of all crops. Some times there is marked difference in the reports coming in from different localities in the same county, in some of which a long-continued drought is reported, while in others the seasons and conditions are said to be good. The general complaint is drought and rust. A few of the counties report crops unusually fine, but the great majority state them to be considerably below the average, in a few instances complaint is made of too much rain in August. The general outlook discloses conditions and prospects less favorable than at this time last year.

In the Three Sections.

The condition of the various crops compared to an average for the various sections is as follows:

Northern Section—Cotton, 62 per cent; corn, 62 per cent; upland rice, 81 per cent; sweet potatoes, 64 per cent; tobacco, 52 per cent; cow peas, 67 per cent; ground peas, 68 per cent; forage crops, such as shredded corn, hay, etc., 63 per cent; number of hogs, 76 per cent; condition of live stock, 83 per cent; sugar cane, 70 per cent. Middle Section—Cotton, 71 per cent; corn, 65 per cent; upland rice, 78 per cent; sweet potatoes, 69 per cent; tobacco, 50 per cent; cow peas, 71 per cent; ground peas, 72 per cent; forage crops, such as shredded corn, hay, etc., 63 per cent; number of hogs, 82 per cent; condition of live stock, 90 per cent; sugar cane, 75 per cent. Southern Section—Cotton, 81 per cent; corn, 77 per cent; rice 83 per cent; sweet potatoes, 80 per cent; tobacco, 81 per cent; cow peas, 89 per cent; ground peas, 91 per cent; forage crops, such as shredded corn, hay, etc., 83 per cent; number of hogs, 87 per cent; condition of live stock, 90 per cent; sugar cane, 79 per cent.

Averages for the State.

The total averages of all these crops for the whole state is as follows: Cotton, 70 per cent; corn, 68 per cent; rice, 83 per cent; sweet potatoes, 71 per cent; tobacco, 61 per cent; cow peas, 76 per cent; ground peas, 79 per cent; forage crops, such as shredded corn, hay, etc., 71 per cent; number of hogs, 81 per cent; condition of live stock, 88 per cent; sugar cane, 75 per cent.

The total average of these same crops for the same date last year was as follows: Cotton, 75 per cent; corn, 77 per cent; rice, 86 per cent; sweet potatoes, 91 per cent; tobacco, 87 per cent; cow peas, 88 per cent; ground peas, 90 per cent; forage crops, such as shredded corn, hay, etc., 88 per cent; number of hogs, 91 per cent; condition of live stock, 90 per cent; sugar cane, 86 per cent.

THE BEST SUBSTITUTE FOR SHORT CORN AND HAY.

In view of the very short crop of corn raised in Georgia, and the partial failure of the hay crop, we advise the farmers to plant more than the usual crop of wheat, so as to have the average amount for grinding into flour and a large surplus to be used for feed for live stock. This extra amount of wheat should be cut in the dough state. Then it will serve for both corn and hay.
GA. DEPT. OF AGRICULTURE.

COMMISSIONERS OF AGRICULTURE HOLD MEETING.

Recently the Cotton States Association of the Commissioners of Agriculture held their fourth annual convention in Nashville, Tenn. Many able papers were read on this occasion, and the commissioners also estimated that the aggregate of the entire cotton crop for all the southern states for the season of 1901-1902 would approximate 9,715,349 bales. This association, which has been of great service to the farmers of the south, was organized at the instance and through the influence of the Georgia Department of Agriculture, and their last meeting was held in Atlanta in the summer of 1899.

Expenses of the White House.

Aside from the President's salary and the expense of keeping the White House in repair, it costs the Government only about $65,000 to operate the establishment. Of this amount $50,000 is expended in the salaries of the thirty men on the executive payroll, says the World's Work. These range from a Secretary to the President, with a salary of $5000 a year, down to messengers and doorkeepers whose pay is in some instances perhaps one-tenth that sum. This remaining $15,000 defrays all the other expenses—the replacing of worn-out office furniture, types, writer repairs, stationery and feed for the half dozen horses in the White House stables. Of course the executive office has the benefit of many economies beyond the reach of the thrifty merchant. For instance, all official mail is franked, saving appropriately $20 a day. Special telegraph and cable rates are also secured.

What Women Tipplers Drink.

Right Rev. Leighton Coleman, Episcopal bishop of Delaware, who startled his hearers in a mission address at New Brunswick, N. J., by the statement that there is an alarming increase of intemperance among women, along with a decrease of intemperance among men, has repeated the statement. After he made committees impartial citizens went to various fashionable hotels and women's restaurants, taking notes of women patrons. They found that to take wines, cordials, even whisky, with meals was an almost invariable rule among the wealthy and fashionable set. Not only this, but in so called tearooms intoxicants were served to women, who ordered them without even the pretense of ordering a meal. Among the middle class of women the evil is extending in other forms.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

Love is a flower that easily fades.

The flavor of widows is that of sweet pickles.

The strongest passion of every mother is jealousy of every other mother's children.

It is the feline strain of femininity which makes it claw what it loves and carves what it hates.

When women get together to plan what action they should take a coming conference they begin by asking each other what they are going to wear that day, and if it wouldn't be a nice idea to have a long hour recess so they can all go somewhere for lunch.—New York Press.

Work and Worship.

In this day, when we are so wont to emphasize work more than worship, when we are so likely to restrict prayer to its mere uses of petition, when we are in want of religion experience, when we are so apt to forget that fruitfulness in Christian service means close connection of vine and branch, surely it is good to be reminded that spirituality is the root and source of all greatness of thought and of life.—Rev. Dr. Dewey, Congregationalist, Brooklyn.

A Des Moines, Iowa, preacher in resigning his pastorate frankly said he did to because another church had offered him more money. There at least, is one preacher who knows the difference between a "call" and a "raise"—Augusta Chronicle.

Hon. G. D. Bruce.

The subject of this brief sketch was born in Lumpkin county, Ga., Oct. 13, 1861, and was married in the adjoining county, Hall, in 1882. He removed to Kansas in 1885 and after remaining in that state three years returned to Georgia. Mr. Bruce went to Oklahoma in 1893 and was in the great rush when the government opened and distributed a large portion of its public lands in that section for settlement. He was successful in securing a claim, upon which he settled, and remained for four years. During this period was elected tax assessor of Noble county. Although the land was rich and very productive he preferred the old red hills of Georgia, and came back to the county which gave him birth in 1897, where he has remained ever since, following the occupation of a photographer which profession he selected many years ago, although he was raised on the farm.

HON. G. D. BRUCE,
Lumpkin County's Representative.

Mr. Bruce is a staunch democrat and has worked in the interest of the party ever since being big enough to talk politics.

He was elected city marshal of Dahlonega in 1898, represented Lumpkin county in the lower house of the general assembly of Georgia in 1900-'01, and on Wednesday commenced serving his constituents in this capacity for two more years.

While serving his first term in the Legislature Mr. Bruce made many warm friends. He was active and wide awake to the best interest of his state and county and soon ranked with the most popular members of the body, served on some five or six different important committees while there and performed his duties ably, faithfully and satisfactorily. He secured for his county all the local legislation desired and succeeded in getting larger appropriations for college purposes here than was expected, causing his constituents to point to his record while in the discharge of the duties involved upon him as a public servant with pride. Confident of his ability and feeling sure that he will continue to discharge his duties in the future as he has in the past, he has a power of attorney to act for Lumpkin county for the next two years without any dictations from her people whatever.

It seems that Hon. F. C. Tate will have two opponents for congress next time. Col. Charters of Dahlonega, has been nominated by the Signal, and the name of Mr. Thomas Bell of Gainesville has been put before the people by the Dawsonville Advertiser.

Last week when writing about the legislative members, we forgot McIntosh county. It sent a negro as usual, who will play the part of the lone fisherman this term and spend the time in misrepresenting his county like the republicans, populists and independents, eight all told.

An Amusing Story.

There is an amusing little story being hugely enjoyed in Marietta and we consider it our duty to pass it on. Recently there was a gentleman and lady who had made arrangements to attend an entertainment together. They rung up another lady a good friend of both, and asked her to go with them, assuring her of the pleasure she would confer by accepting their invitation. She did so, but before she had time to say Jack Robertson, the carriage was at the door, the occupants insisting on her coming at once, as there was no time to spare. There was a hastily made toilet, hat and gloves being carried in the hands to the carriage to be put on at leisure. After the drive was begun our heroine became convinced that her shirt-waist had not been properly adjusted underneath the skirt. She believed that the waist was outside the skirt in some places and inside in others. The work went on until the gentleman escorting the two ladies became mystified and much embarrassed. "My dear friend, what are you trying to do? I have stood this long enough. Is it a trick you two have put up?" asked the perplexed bean. Upon investigation it proved that the lady who thought she had hold of her own waist was really tugging at his coat skirts. She tells of the occurrence in good style. She is an exceedingly bright and charming woman, and much of the humorous flavor is lost by hearing it from any one except herself.—Marietta Journal.

Peach Stones.

Peach stones will make a quick, hot fire and one that will last. One and a half or two buckets of peach stones will last as long as a bucket of coal. One has to be careful not to fill the stove too full or there will likely be an explosion similar to a gasoline explosion. The proper way to keep the fire going is to put a shovelful at a time. "Peach stones thrown into a damp cellar," said one who has used them, "are said to have a peculiar effect on a person. After the stones are in a cellar for a time gases arise, and the fumes will go to one's head and give the same effect as if the distilled product of the peach had been imbibed."—Baltimore Sun.

Wanted—Manly Men.

The crying need of our times is for men—broad-minded, high-souled men; men staunch character, who have an interest in the real development of the race and an eye single to its glorification. Men whose pulse beats are in harmony with the great heart throbs of humanity. If we know ourselves we are not pessimists; but point us out if you will many men of the above kind. They are scarce, yes, very scarce. And yet how we need them!—these leaders who can blaze out way for progress—real progress.—Hartwell Sun.

Capt. Andrew Woodall of Chertown, Md., one of the most extensive owners of farm lands on the Eastern Shore of Maryland, owns thirty farms in Kent and Cecil counties, aggregating 18,000 acres. From them he harvested this year 90,000 bushels of wheat, and his corn crop will yield him about 125,000 bushels.

Mrs. Hettie Green, America's richest woman, says: "I don't believe in luck. Luck is superstition. If you start in life with a good, soul, a good, sound, healthy body and work hard you will succeed. Don't live high; don't get into bad company."

Heart Trouble Baffled Doctors.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nerve Cure Me.

There is nothing more necessary to health than sleep and a good night's rest. If you rise in the morning more tired than when you went to bed, there is an affection of the nerves plainly present. If your heart is weak, or there is an inherited tendency in that direction, your weakened nerves will soon to affect your heart's action as to bring on serious, chronic trouble. Dr. Miles' Nerve is a nerve tonic, which quiets the nerves, so that sleep may come, and it quickly restores the weakened nerves to health and strength. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is a great blood and heart tonic which regulates the action of the heart, enriches the blood and improves the circulation.

"Some time ago I was suffering severely with heart trouble. At times my heart would seemingly stop beating and at others it would beat loudly and very fast. Three to four hours sleep each night in ten months was all I could get. One week in last September I never closed my eyes. I got Dr. Miles' Nerve and Heart Cure at a drug store in Lawrenceburg, after spending $300.00 in medicine and doctors in Louisville, Shelbyville, Franklin, Cincinnati and Lawrenceburg, and in three days have derived more benefit from the use of your remedies than I got from all the doctors and their medicines. I think everybody ought to know of the marvelous power contained in your remedies."—W. H. Humes, Fox Creek, Ky.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, OCTOBER 24, 1902.
 Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O.

 Official Organ of both City and County.

The settlement of the strike has already caused the price of coal to decrease.

The little two-year-old child of Mr. J. P. Hollingsworth was burned to death in its father's house at Macon, Ga., last Friday.

Col. H. H. Perry of Gainesville, has purchased a tract of land within a mile of Cleveland, in White county, where he will build a residence and use it as his summer home.

One day last week Mrs. Nations went into a bar at Austin, Texas, to take charge of it and upon refusing to leave was caught by the back of the neck and one arm and landed into the street by the proprietor.

President Roosevelt has appointed another democrat to office in Alabama to fill the place of an ousted republican. Judge Roulhac succeeding Mr. Vaughan as United States marshal. It is generally believed that the action of the president is a slap at the "illy whites" in Alabama for excluding the negroes from the state convention in Birmingham some time ago. The president has already set the seal of his disapproval upon that action.—Columbus Sun.

Judge Joseph Tillman of Quitman, Ga., has applied to the United States Patent Office for letters patent on a process known to him for many years, and which he has tested on a large scale, for making a perfectly pure sugar cane syrup that cannot be excelled as a table syrup by any made in the known world. The attractive feature of his process is that every grower of sugar-cane can make a pure syrup while cooking the juice from the sugar mill without additional cost. The growing of sugar-cane will give the South a new impetus.

G. T. Canning, captain of the Candler Horse Guards, this week sent in his resignation to the company and will resign his commission to the Governor within the next few days. Captain Canning states that his business connections will not allow the time sufficient to do the work as captain of the troops and make a full success of it. It is not yet known who will fill his office, though the boys are anxious for "Captain" Ben Gaillard to join the troop and accept the place. Mr. Gaillard has considerable practice in military matters and would make a capital officer.—Eagle.

There seems to be trouble in the camps over at Elkhay about the ballot box. This is what the Courier says about it: "At the recent election the return from Leaches district gave Gudgeon, candidate for Clerk, only fifteen votes. Later twenty-three citizens of that district filed affidavits that they voted at that precinct for Gudgeon. The grand jury on Tuesday took up the case for investigation, and finding the ballot box locked and no key to be found they laid it aside until Wednesday. When they proceeded to burst open the box, finding it empty. Every ballot of the recent election had disappeared.

One hundred and forty-seven thousand men were on a strike in anthracite coal fields for 157 days, up to the time the agreement was reached the normal output of coal for this number of men in the time named would have been 22,000,000 tons. It is estimated that the loss to strikers in wages was $28,700,000, and to the business men dependent upon the mines for their sales and collections $26,000,000. During the strike fourteen persons were killed and a number wounded. It is asserted that half of the mines can be started up within three days, and that within two weeks the mines will be given their normal output of 1,200,000 tons per week.

Hon. Newt Morris of Cobb, was elected speaker of the house.

Tribute of Respect to Hon. J. B. Estes.

At the close of the business of Lumpkin Superior Court on last Wednesday afternoon the members of the bar met for the purpose of paying a deserving tribute of respect to Judge J. B. Estes whose term of office practically closes with this term of the court. Col. W. P. Price took the chair and Mr. John H. Moore was requested to act as secretary. After the object of the meeting was explained Col. W. A. Charters introduced a set of resolutions which were adopted by a rising vote of the whole house. Cols. Charters, Baker, Findley, Lilly and Price spoke in the highest terms of Judge Estes and said many beautiful things about the one so much beloved by the people of Lumpkin county—the man who has made us a good judge, a just judge and an impartial judge. Then Judge Estes arose and returned to one and all his heartfelt thanks for this act of appreciation, talking in such a deep, sincere and feeling manner as to bring tears to the eyes of many.

The following are the resolutions:

WHEREAS, Hon. J. B. Estes, present Judge of the North-eastern Circuit, will, with the ending of Lumpkin Superior Court, retire from the active duties on the bench, closing his judicial service for the state, at the ending of the year, 1902. A few of the attorneys, who have met to pay a parting tribute of friendship to Judge Estes, were his associates at the bar when he began his public official service as Judge of the North-eastern Circuit and have been his friends since he has occupied the position of judge. Most of the attorneys, now present, are young men who began their professional lives after Judge Estes became an honored judge of the state. To all of us, both young and old, he has ever been the same courteous, dignified, patient and obliging superior officer. The parting hour with this faithful public servant brings us no unpleasant memories. He has maintained the majesty of the law, by holding the scales of justice impartially between the parties whose contentions have brought them before him, as well as those whose offenses against law and order have made it necessary for him to pass sentence upon them. We trust while Judge Estes, in this retiring from active judicial work, that his life will be spared for many years to come, and that whether in professional life or enjoying the restful days of declining years he will possess as he does now, the friendship and esteem of those who know him best.

Resolved, That, Hon. J. B. Estes in surrendering the judicial ermine, so long and faithfully worn, carries with him in his retirement the well wishes of those who have shared with him the labors of the court room and we express the hope that he will find, in the remaining years of his life, the comfort which comes from the consciousness of having performed the intricate as well as delicate responsibilities of a judge, to the satisfaction of his co-laborers, as well as the people of the state who placed him in his high office.

Second, Resolved, That the foregoing preamble and resolutions be spread upon the Minutes of this court; that the clerk thereof prepare a copy for presentation to Judge Estes and that the same be published in the Dahlonega Signal and Nugget.

Mr. Montie Moore went down last week and took in the Atlanta fair.

A gentleman was in the city Tuesday with one of the seven wolves Mr. A. Whelchel brought back from Oklahoma, some time ago. It was a little over half grown and was a curiously to many who had never seen one before.

The fight in the church at Mill Creek distrot some time ago has caused a lot of trouble and expense. Many true bills were returned against the parties, causing both men and women to have to come to court as witnesses by the dozens.

It was reported here that John Chatten of this county, was convicted in the U. S. court for breaking into Wier postoffice Tuesday, but the Atlanta News of that afternoon, says that Dick McDonald refused to swear against him and the case would be resumed the next morning.

We understand that a certain old gentleman located in this county sent some aid to the Pennsylvania strikers. We don't suppose he belongs to any union but did it through sympathy and for the sake of suffering humanity.

The indebtedness of the county before court was about $3,700. With the expense of the present term added it will spoil a $4,000 bill. But the assessment is believed to be sufficient to meet it which the tax collector commenced gathering in last Monday.

Mr. Ainsley, the president of the Standard Gold Mining Co., took his departure for his home in Chicago last Saturday morning. He has been here for several weeks looking after the company's interest and seems very well pleased with the prospects of the company he represents.

The Superior court of White county closed last Thursday evening after a four days session of much business. Solicitor Charters succeeded in getting a verdict of guilty in 15 cases out of 16, and the fines were very reasonable, being from $10 up to $35. The heaviest was on account of the appearance of the defendant coming before the court two terms in succession. Fifteen true bills were returned against persons for their bad conduct at the recent negro camp meeting in that county, and many more would have been returned against others had the witnesses been able to identify them.

The fall term public debates in both societies of the North Georgia Agricultural College have been arranged for. In Decora Society, J. F. McCracken, of Demorest, and W. T. Townsend, of Picken county, and B. H. Moye, Shanderville, and S. C. Edmonson, of Murray county, will argue the question, "Resolved, That Labor Unions are Detrimental to Industrial Progress." In Phi Mu Society the question is "Resolved, That of Compulsory Education Should be Adopted in Georgia." And the speakers are J. D. Gortolowsky, of Albany, and R. C. Ward and J. R. Byers, of Price, and E. H. Phillips of Monroe. O. W. Stead of Murray county, will deliver the introductory oration for the former occasion, and N. W. Grant, of Clarksville, for the latter.

The county officers have all made their bonds.

Mrs. Calvin left for Cernelia Wednesday to join her husband who has recently located at that place.

Porter Springs closed for the season on Thursday of last week, causing everything to look quite lonesome up there.

Mr. Frank Meaders has spent several days in Atlanta taking in the horse show and other things of interest at the fair.

A splendid organ for sale at a bargain by Miss Amanda Cain at the Photographic gallery. Call and examine it and get terms. tf.

Mr. J. M. Brooksher was elected foreman of the grand jury this week who rushed business through with a vim, and saved the county of paying out any money for slowness.

The registrars of this county were engaged again last Saturday in preparing the voters lists to be sent out for the congressional election which takes place on the 4th of November.

Mr. Arch Anderson went out on a hunt the other day and was about to kill a gentleman's pet goat for a deer. We understood that he made one shot before discovering his mistake.

Those who subscribed to help build a fence around the cemetery at Jones' Chapel and Bethlehem are requested by the committee to pay the money into Mr. W. H. Jones so the work can be commenced as soon as possible.

It was reported here and published some time ago that Mr. S. A. Kelly, a former citizen of this place had died in Texas, but we are glad to state that it is a mistake. He is at Mart, Texas, and writes as follows: "I am still among the living notwithstanding the reports to the contrary and send you a dollar for another year's subscription to the Nugget. I am enjoying good health and work in a store."

Rev. W. J. Wooten of Norcross, after remaining in our city more than a week, meeting his old friends and looking over the play grounds of his boyhood days, left last Wednesday. Mr. Wooten was a drummer in the civil war, belonging to the old 52nd and had the pleasure of meeting and talking with quite a number of his old comrades while here and relating many anecdotes that occurred in the years of long ago. We trust that he will return again and remain longer.

Many of the blockaders of this county received the special attention of Judge Newman of Atlanta on the 16th and 17th inst., who gave them the following terms in Fulton county jail, fixing each one hundred dollars in addition, and those not able to pay the fine have to take an oath to that effect and serve a month longer: George Peck 4 months, Lewis Prewitt 2; J. B. Swancy 1, Virgo Parks 4; Berry Crane 4, Will Magness 6; Tom Williams 2, Coleman Ash 2; Sam Lingerfelt 4, Jeff Standell 1, Howard Shelton 4, Jim Woody 4, and Jerry Black 2. So it will be observed that some of them will take their Christmas turkey in prison.

This week we have received a lot of new subscribers and renewals for which we return thanks. And on the other hand lost two subscribers who said we were too hard on republicans. With these goes a lot of tears as big as horse apples. It is not often that a republican from principal kicks when he is slightly spurred during a campaign. But it is the soft shell republicans like these two. One of them went across the line during the war and is now drawing a pension for services "rendered," and the other left the confederate army in time of need without leave of absence and of course don't like what we have heretofore said about deserters. This is what is hurting. They can neither stand lead or paper bullets.

Don't forget those bargains at M. G. Head's store.

Little Carl, son of Mr. J. M. Brooksher, has the typhoid fever.

Mrs. Emma Miles of Dalton, Ga. is here on a visit to her father, Mr. M. F. Wheelchel.

Prof. Rogers gives the boys at the dormitory fresh fish on Sunday, taking fifty pounds at a meg.

If the people of the county wish to sell their chickens for a good price let them bring them to Dahlonega.

We had the pleasure of meeting Hon. L. S. Bailey this week, Dawson county's representative at the last session.

The clever, good hearted court stenographer, Mr. R. J. Swain, leaves for his home at Reeves Station, Ga., this week.

Nearly all the students have received their uniforms, caused them to have a nice appearance in marching to church last Sunday.

You will see by a notice elsewhere that Mr. J. T. Miller of Auraria, Ga., is selling out his entire stock of goods at, and below cost.

Mr. John L. Webunt of this county, aged about 85, fell in the fire one day last week and was so seriously burned that he is not expected to live.

The eclipse of the moon last week was very interesting to many young men and their sweethearts who sat up during the late hour and watched it for two or three hours without even nodding.

So many wells being dry here caused some inconvenience to many people who attended court this week. The rains that have fallen since the end of the drought doesn't seem to effect the wells any, and the streams but very little.

The hauling of the machinery to the Chestatee river has been quite a job and very slow on account of its great weight, but it will not be long until it is in position, and arrangements are being made to light up Gainesville by the 15th of next month.

One of the students who was caught "jacking" at the college last week was expelled, and about 50 or 75 others, so we understand, signed a petition appealing to the faculty to take the young man back, but the request was declined and he left for home in a few days afterwards. So the boys will observe that it is best for them to comply with the rules of the institution.

Col. Baker returned from Atlanta last Friday where he had been to attend the Mayor's convention of three days' session in that prosperous city, very much delighted with his trip and the manner in which they were all treated. The city was turned over to them, her citizens doing everything in their power to make it a delightful occasion to each and every one of her guests.

Again we repeat that the terms of all county officers should be extended to four years in order to curtail expenses. At the last election in this county the expenses of the managers and clerks amounted to $155.00, as follows: Dahlonega $34.00, Hightower $7.00, Nimblewill $8.00, Mill Creek $8.00, Auraria $7.00, Crumby's $9.00, Martin's Ford $7.00, Jones' Creek $8.00, Cane Creek $8.00, Shoal Creek $8.00, Frogtown $9.00, Wahoo $8.00, Chestatee $9.00, Davis $8.00, Porter Springs $9.00, Yahoola $8.00. It will be seen that the expenses of Jones' Creek, the smallest district in the county cost $1.00 more than Auraria, the largest voting precinct outside of Dahlonega—Auraria casting 63 ballots and Jones' Creek 26. Isn't this enough to convince those who oppose the four years term that they are wrong? We are told that the holding of the election two years previous to the one recently held only cost $74.00 including $12.00 paid to the managers and clerks at the Dahlonega precinct. Why such an increase should occur we are not able to tell.

Chestnuts have been selling from the wagons this week at $2.00 per bushel.

We haven't had enough cold weather here yet to cause the lizards to go into winter quarters.

Miss Norma Anderson, a sister of Mr. Wharton Anderson, came up from Atlanta last Tuesday to spend a week or two.

Chambers, the man who had his skull burst at Auraria during the election, has been dismissed by his physician and gone to work.

At Mrs. Stricklands you will find a nice line of childrens' jackets and ladies cloaks. Cloaks are going at from 75 cents to $5.00 each.

Mr. Frank Reese returned from his trip last Monday, and on Tuesday, his partner, Mr. W. P. Price, Jr., took his departure for Atlanta.

Prof. Stewart of the N. G. A. College, requests us to state that he would be glad to have any old college catalogues for the library of this institution from its foundation up to 1890.

The Rob Long murder case and several other important ones in the Superior court of this county had to be discontinued on account of so many witnesses being recently sentenced to serve in Fulton county jail for blockading.

Tuesday when Etna Parks of Dawson county, was arrested on a misdemeanor bond by the sheriff he gave him a leg bail, but in a little while he was caught near Cane Creek bridge and caused to make a different bond.

Mrs. Joseph Ricketts died at this place last Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock. Some months ago both Mr. and Mrs. Ricketts took their beds with typhoid fever. The husband recovered, and Mrs. Ricketts got so she could be up but took a relapse and was unable to overcome it.

Jack Townsend and Ned Moose came near losing their lives down at the Singleton mine last Saturday by the wire rope breaking, letting the loaded car run back down the incline at a rapid speed. Fortunately the drilling machine was in a position to save them from being struck.

Mr. E. E. Crisson will temporarily move out into the country this week or first of next to develop his mining property, which he considers to be very valuable. His store will remain at the same place, in Dahlonega, where he asks the continuance of the liberal patronage of the public as in the past.

Last Sunday while Judge Kimsey was going to Atlanta from Gainesville, a shot was fired at the train a few miles from the latter city and the ball struck and shattered the window at the seat occupied by the judge, but fortunately it hit a small iron rod just inside the window and was deflected. It is said that there is a clue to the perpetrator of the deed.

When Jack Lingerfelt of Dawson county, was called into court last Tuesday to answer to the charge of being drunk in this county at his mother's funeral some time ago, he came in assisted by a friend and swore that his mind was not right at times and that he was too sick to attend trial. It is said that the appearance of a judge in court when he has a case on the docket always makes him sick—several times in the U. S. court.

Many of the young people of Dahlonega enjoyed another dance at the Dahlonega Hotel last Saturday evening until a late hour. While at the same time the children had a party in Anderson & Jones' Hall. Those attending the latter passed off the time in such plays and songs as "Pinks in the Garden," marching round and round, while at the other place they caught each others hands at the command of "swing corners" and danced to the tunes played on the fiddle and guitar by two colored musicians.

Mining Notes.

Mr. Ashley recently went to North Carolina and purchased another dredge boat to put in the Etowah river for mining purposes.

A few hands are engaged down at the Belt clearing off and getting things in readiness for operations to begin soon under the supervision of the newly organized company.

We will have to have a good deal of rain between now and the first of next month if the work is resumed at Crown Mountain gold mine then as the streams are yet very low.

The Standard property is showing up well and giving good results. There are several losses engaged in taking out ore at different places at and near the Singleton besides the mining being done by the company. A track is being placed in position from the mill to the Tabloeka so as to be able to handle its ore with ease and cheapness.

Messrs. Sovey, Tregent and Bruce have been making things hum since commencing the repairs at and about the Barlow mill a few weeks ago a portion of the time working both night and day, and on Wednesday turned the water on the mill and put it to running for the first time it has been in operation since being owned by the Consolidated Co. This is good property and we feel confident that these gentlemen will make money.

Over at the Turkey Hill mine Mr. Packard struck new gravel with his lift and found it No. 1 last week. But its owner has become so use to finding gold on this celebrated property that nothing of this kind excites him in the least. Mr. Packard has been in possession of it long enough to get acquainted with its richness and knows that he owns a good gold mine is the reason why he contracts no gold fever from such discoveries.

The Chestatee Association.

The Chestatee Baptist Association met at Mount Zion church in this county last week with Rev. Mel Kimsey of White county as moderator and Rev. Mat Grizzle of Lumpkin, clerk.

The discussion on different matters were very warm, so much so that Mr. Gillard church withdrew from the association. Not on account of what was said altogether, but what was done. Notwithstanding the moderator stated that the Nugget lied when it said that this association, on account of its actions last year, was opposed to Sunday schools, repeated what it did in 1901, by voting down the appointment of committees on Sunday schools, temperance, ministerial education and pastoral support. We are very much surprised at the remark of the moderator when the records for both years prove that the work of Sunday schools is not recognized in this body.

The following query was submitted: "Why should men be educated to preach the gospel?"

The following answer made by Mr. J. C. Stargel was voted down: "Educate him because he is a preacher and not to make a preacher."

Then Rev. S. M. Grizzle answered in the following language and it carried: "That men don't have to be educated to preach the gospel."

Mr. Fate Seabolt brought down a hog last Saturday that realized him $24.00 in cash.

The visiting members of the bar this week were Messrs. Howard Thompson, B. P. Gaillard and W. F. Findley of Gainesville.

Strange things still continue taking place in Lumpkin county. Only a short while ago Mrs. Elias Grizzle was sent to the asylum, and at this term of Lumpkin Superior Court her husband asked a jury to give him the first verdict for a divorce, but it refused to do it, and did right.

Grand Jury Presentments.

We the grand jury chosen and sworn at the October term of Lumpkin county superior court, 1902, having performed the duties devolving upon us as a body, beg to submit the following report:

We have, through appropriate committees, examined into the various offices and institutions of the county and find same in following condition:

Jail is in good condition, except closet in jail, which needs to be so arranged that closet can be kept well supplied with water and kept cleaned. Also find new locks needed on some of the doors down stairs. Found court house in good condition.

We have, through Finance committee, examined into the various offices of the county. (See report of Finance committee hereto attached.)

We find that much land is given in at much less than 50 cts per acre when no tax receiver is allowed to take it for less than 50 cts per acre, as recommended by a former grand jury. We now recommend that the said tax receiver accept no lands returned for less than about the amount.

We have examined the dockets of Justices of Peace and Notary Publics and find all of same, in reasonable good condition.

The following persons are appointed to act as Finance committee to report at the next term of court, to-wit: Jos. E. McGee, W. J. T. Hutcherson and John B. Stringer.

We recommend that the ordinary furnish the County School Commissioner a suitable room in the court house to transact such business as may come before the Board of Education.

We find complaint about the condition of the following roads, to-wit:

Road across Grassy Gap, road running out by Clark Bart place, also road running out by Clark Bart place, known as Little Mountain road. Mill Creek road running from State road to Three Notch road. Change in road, known as Auraria and Dawsonville road, beginning at West end of Castlebury bridge and running on South side of hill and intersecting with said road at top of Battle Branch hill.

We find we have a good bridge over the Chestatee river, built at a cost to the county of some $3,250 dollars, but in high waters it is useless, owing to the bridge over the Yaboola creek being so low that in time of high water this bridge is covered so that it is dangerous to cross, we recommend that the ordinary have this bridge raised so it can be crossed in high water. We find that the road from town to the bridge is so steep and hilly that it is impossible for a team to haul a load over it, still we find that a new road can be surveyed out on a good grade with but little expense. We find the grand jury of the fall term of last year recommended that this road be re-surveyed and changed, but there was no notice taken of it, so it seems useless for this jury to recommend again this very much needed change.

We recommend that the jury for next year be paid $1.50 per day for their services. Also the court bailiff be paid the same.

Owing to the financial condition of the county, we deem it unwise to recommend the adoption of the alternative road law at this time. We recommend that these presentments be published in the Dahlonega Signal and DAHLONEGA NUGGET.

Second Vol. page 387.

We recommend that a local tax of 25 cents on each one hundred dollars of property, outside of the city of Dahlonega, in Lumpkin Co., be levied and paid each year for the support and maintenance of the public schools of the county. This recommendation to be carried into effect in the event that the next grand jury shall so recommend, according to law, as provided in the Code of Georgia on subject, and provided the same is ratified by two-thirds of the legal voters at an election ordered for that purpose.

We recommend that the ordinary pay old Mrs. Sarah Ann Cronon $3.00 per month out of pauper fund.

We find 2 paupers under care of ordinary. Said paupers have been placed in care of Mr. A. D. Jackson at $10.00 per month for the two.

In taking leave of his honor, Judge Estes, for the last time as Judge of this circuit, we extend to him our best wishes for his health and happiness, and that he may live for many years among us.

Thanks to Solicitor General W. A. Charters for the courteous and pleasant manner in which he has assisted this body in the discharge of their duties.

We also extend our thanks to our bailiff, Mr. James Wheelchel, for the kind and pleasant manner in which he has waited on us.

We have examined the books of the Ordinary and find that he has borrowed $750.00 for county purposes.

We have examined the books of J. B. Brown, County Treasurer. We find that he had a balance on hand at last report of $32.49 and that since that time he has received of John Huff, Ordinary, of borrowed money $750.00 and $400.00 from proceeds of the sale of the Pauper's Home, also $32.60 for convict hire, also for Post Office rent $26.50, making a total of $1241.59. We find the Treasurer has paid out on different funds the following amounts:

County funds	$465.16
Bridge funds	187.29
Jury funds	385.50
Jail funds	194.46
Pauper funds	40.79

Total funds paid out $1228.20
Balance on hand $13.39.

We have examined the books of the Clerk of the Superior Court and found from last report the amount of insolvent cost due County $250.80. Fines and forfeitures collected at last term of the court $335.00. Amount of insolvent cost due officers at last term of court, $577.00 leaving a balance on hand of $7.70 to the credit of insolvent cost fund.

We find the indebtedness of the county to be up to this time about $3750.00.

We find that the expenses of holding the recent state and county elections amounts in the aggregate to $155.00, by districts, as follows:

SELECTION MANAGERS AND CLERKS.
Dahlonega Dist.	$34.00
Hightower Dist.	7.00
Nimblewill Dist.	8.00
Mill Creek Dist.	8.00
Auraria Dist.	7.00
Crumby's Dist.	9.00
Martin's Ford Dist.	7.00
Jones' Creek Dist.	5.00
Cane Creek Dist.	8.00
Shoal Creek Dist.	8.00
Frogtown Dist.	9.00
Wahoo Dist.	8.00
Chestatee Dist.	9.00
Davis Dist.	8.00
Porter Springs Dist.	8.00
Yaboola Dist.	8.00

Total $155.00

We find by reference that the above amounts exceed the expenses of holding previous elections in the sum of about $81.00.

We refer this matter to your honorable body for your consideration.

We find that all the county officer's books are neatly and correctly kept.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

The criminal business of the U. S. court is concluded for the present session. No more jury business will be tried until December 8th, when the civil docket will be taken up. In the mean time Judge Newman will hold court in Athens, Rome and Columbus.

Last week a mob of negroes at Anderson, S. C., applied the lash to the naked back of one of their race for attempting to assault a girl of their color.

The legislature will be asked to appropriate $50,000 for the Georgia exhibit at the St. Louis fair.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, OCTOBER 30, 1902.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

It is now Governor Terrell.

Ex-governor Chandler has returned to Gainesville.

As soon as the members of the legislature took the oath of office the Atlanta depot matter came up next.

The official vote of the state has been declared by the legislature. Terrell, for governor, received 81,344, Hines 4,747.

The accumulation of water and gas in many of the mines of Pennsylvania will prevent work being resumed at them for weeks.

The U. S. geologist says that the oil gushers of Texas may soon be exhausted, and from them will likely flow nothing but salt water.

The sum of $250,000 for missions was raised at Cleveland, O., last week during the session of the general Methodist missionary convention.

Governor Chandler's last message to the new legislature was to the point and very interesting, and if the suggestions in it are carried out the state's condition will be in better shape.

A man was held up by two thieves in Atlanta one night last week and robbed of all the money he had on his person, 75 cents. This makes Atlanta an unpleasant place for country editors to go.

The first bill introduced in the House of Representatives last week after it convened was the uniform text book bill by Mr. West of Lowndes. This is a very important bill and we trust that it will become a law.

Mr. Harden of Chatham, wants the game law amended by adding the summer duck to the list of protected fowls. Why not take in all the birds and fowls at one sweep and let the bird legislation come to an end and get down to more important matters?

Governor Terrell has issued a proclamation revoking all the proclamations and rewards offered for the arrest of criminals prior to June 4, 1902, except gibbous burners, forgers of land titles, or counterfeiters of the great seal of the state.

The Jackson Argus says it is "again" the proposition to establish an appellate court in Georgia, with five judges at a salary of $8000 each. Of course it is. We don't need any more courts nor any more offices in this State. The men who hope to get the new offices may need the salaries, but the people need the money it would take to pay the salaries, truthfully adds the Easton Messenger.

Mr. Johnson of Clinch will introduce a bill to require all pistol-toters to carry a sign. "I am a pistol-toter" and to wear little red lanterns at night. He introduced the same measure some twelve years ago. Talk about wise legislation, what about this? Of course it will never become a law, but an amendment should be made to it so that every one voting for the measure should wear the badge spoken of on the bosom of their pants.

In order to do away with any further agitation looking to the removal of the Agricultural College, supported by the Morrill fund from the State University at Athens, Gov. Terrell will recommend that a college be established in each congressional district to be supported by the fund derived from the inspection of fertilizers, letting the counties of the district bid for the location of it. If this is done it will give the largest and wealthiest county of each district the college, regardless of whether it is conveniently or centrally located or not and we are opposed to such a move.

Mining Notes.

Mr. Griffin & McDonalds have resumed work again at the Bokey Field's Mine in good earnest using their utmost skill to strike the rich vein over there that was lost many years ago. A boiler has been secured and the pumping and drilling will hereafter be done by steam. We trust that they will be successful for if they do find it and the vein is as good as it use to be it means hundreds of penny-weights to them.

Figures furnished a few days ago by Hon. George E. Roberts, director of the Mint, show that during the calendar year 1901, the United States produced 3,805,500 ounces of gold, valued at $78,006,700; a decrease of $504,300, or 0.636 per cent, as compared with the yield of 1900. Georgia produced $124,500 worth of gold last year, more than any other southern state. Georgia produces some silver also, but very little, the amount last year being only 400 ounces. And Lumpkin county leads in the gold production of Georgia.

Mr. J. F. Moore, general manager of the Gorge, informs us that the dam is being placed and work pushed as rapidly as possible. When it is completed it will be 40 feet high, the highest dam in Georgia doubtless. Mr. Moore is very enthusiastic over the success he is having. It will furnish all the power desired for the operation of Crown Mountain plant to its full capacity and some to spare. The gentleman stated that he had prayed and prayed for rain to come but failing to receive it in sufficient quantities for mining purposes, decided to go to work and complete this dam so that the operations he is interested in can be run all the year round regardless of dry seasons. He has the best wishes of our citizens, for we all want to see Crown Mountain Mine in operation again. It is valuable property and we dislike to see its machinery motionless.

In 1875 Mr. W. R. Crisson, a native miner of this county, who is yet living and residing within three miles of Dahlonega, wrote a little history of the mines of this section, among them being the Findley now owned by the Consolidated Gold Mining Co. So as to acquaint those not aware of the richness of the celebrated chute, we give what he says about it below.

This vein was discovered in 1857 by a man by the name of Duncan, who was employed by Col. J. J. Findley, to test for gold, and while thus employed found this rich vein. Col. Findley, doubting the titles of the party claiming the lot—not knowing the rightful owner, anticipated trouble obtaining the right to work it, therefore made Harrison W. Riley his confident and partner. So they went to work at once, at the same time keeping things still and dark. So this celebrated vein was worked to its present depth by Messrs. Findley and Riley. This shaft is about 4x6 feet and 160 feet deep on the incline. Its bottom being 350 feet above the level of the Yahoola, and 900 feet south-east of the shaft, they struck a mountain pass, or vein of water, which ran pretty freely in the bottom of the shaft, and they having no preparations for the drawing water, and at the depth they were, the result is they are driven out of the shaft, and a vein of cold mineral water filled the shaft to the depth of eight or ten feet deep. About this time the rightful owners of the property commenced suit against Findley and Riley—they had already been served with writs. So is quite reasonable to suppose that the true situation of that shaft is best known to its operators, Messrs. Findley and Riley. For a long time the parties, said that the vein had given out, but Findley don't say so now and I guess he would be mighty well pleased to get one more chance at it. John Huff, Esq., well known by the citizens of Dahlonega, was parties' superintendent, when driven out of the shaft, says that four or five pounds of this slate taken up out of the water, as they were drive out, was worth four dollars and no one seen the bottom of the shaft since that time. The writer was frequently at the works, and at one time, when the shaft was about the depth of sixty feet, saw Findley take out about one gallon of ore and beat in a large spice mortar and it made over a half gallon of net gold. At another time, he saw Findley, take out of the shaft, a piece of this gold-ore, varying from one to three inches in width, six or seven inches long, from a quarter to a half an inch thick, weighing about five pounds, and there could have not been more than a half pound of rock in it, giving about four and a half pounds of net gold; and at another time, Findley exhibited in Dahlonega, in the presence of J. W. Burnside and others, a string of rock and gold hanging together, supposed to weigh about ten pounds, having only about two pounds of rock, giving about eight pounds of net gold. Col. Findley has made many hard efforts to get a hold on this mine of late years but has invariably failed. Mr. John Huff was superintendent of the work, and done the last sixty feet of the shaft. He says that four or five pounds of the mixed slate and ore from the bottom of the shaft, taken up hurriedly, as the water drove them out, made four dollars—being the last ore or slate taken from the bottom of the shaft.

It is announced from Atlanta that Mr. R. B. Blackburn will father at the present session of the general assembly of Georgia a bill providing for the selection of about 10,000 additional police officers in the state. As explained by its author, the bill commands itself to prompt passage for Georgia and the adoption as soon as possible by every other Southern State. It means order, safety and prosperity. The bill provides for the choice by the grand jury of each county in the state of seven men in each militia district to act as patrolmen. Each group of seven is to select a captain, and to his call the patrol is subject. Under such a system, and wherever arises, patrolmen may be provided upon a basis of one for every six square miles of the State's area and for every two hundred and twenty of its population, and the officers thus provided will be specially charged with the arrest of all suspicious characters and individuals who may be leading a profligate or an immoral life. The bill enlarges the vagrancy law so as to bring within its purview all persons who have no fixed abode, and who may be found tramping through the country with no visible means of support.

To report of Pension Commissioner J. W. Lindsey has been presented to the legislature. Capt. Lindsey asks the legislature for $880,000 this year for pensions, an increase of $58,000 over the amount paid out last year. This is made necessary by the large number of indigent pensioners, about 1,000 new names having been added to the roll this year. The increase last year over 1901 was $192,000. Capt. Lindsey recommends several changes in the pension laws. He wants a roster made of the Georgia soldiers, impartial medical examiners in each congressional district and quarters instead of annual payments of pensions.

Ben Brown, colored, was lynched at Tallapoosa, Ga., on the night of the 23rd, for assaulting Mrs. Henry Dees. Troops were sent from Atlanta to prevent it but when they got there he was swinging to an iron bridge by the neck, and gone the way that all negroes guilty of such conduct ought to go.

The Australian ballot bill will again be introduced in the legislature. It is a good bill and ought to become a law.

The attorney general says that state, county and municipal bonds are taxable.

A bill has been introduced to make county officers' terms 4 years.

SHYLOCK

Shylock was the man who wanted a pound of human flesh. There are many Shylocks now, the convalescent, the consumptive, the sickly child, the pale young woman, all want human flesh and they can get it—take Scott's Emulsion.

Scott's Emulsion is flesh and blood, bone and muscle. It feeds the nerves, strengthens the digestive organs and they feed the whole body.

For nearly thirty years Scott's Emulsion has been the great giver of human flesh.

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, OCTOBER 30, 1902.

Col. W. S. Huff left for Millcoveville today.

Miss Maud Worley returned last Saturday after a two weeks visit in Gainesville.

Do you need any clothing? If so go to H. D. Gurleys while he is selling it at cost.

Mr. John W. Wehant, 90 odd years of age, died last Thursday night in the Western part of this county.

Mrs. J. T. Miller of Auraria, was up to Dahlonega a few hours last Saturday accompanied by one of her daughters.

Prof. B. P. Gaillard is attending the Grand Lodge of Masons at Macon this week, representing the Dahlonega lodge.

Mr. W. J. Loveless left last Tuesday for Daysville, Tenn., where he goes to accept a job, accompanied by his son Clyde.

Mrs. Gaillard, mother of Prof.
B. P. Gaillard of Dahlonega, after a visit of some weeks here to her son, left for her home at Griffin last Monday.

Mr. R. Palmour, one among Dawson county's largest tillers of the soil, spent a portion of Friday and Saturday in Dahlonega. He reports the crops of his section just tolerable good.

Mr. Pratt, one of the members of the Chestatee Pyrite Mine, of Atlanta, is having him a dwelling erected at the mine where he can be convenient and see all that is going on about the works.

Mr. T. J. Smith and his brother, Ben, have formed a co-partnership and will move into the old Consolidated store room tomorrow, and they ask a liberal patronage of the citizens of Dahlonega and Lumpkin county.

The grand jury returned a true bill against Jim Chambers, who burst his brother's skull accidentally while throwing a rock at another man on election day, and four others connected with it, for riot, and Jim and some of the others have left out for parts unknown.

Messrs. G. F. & F. M. Scofield, bankers of Atlanta, Ga., write to the Manufacturers' Record that they have secured franchises for an electric railroad from that city to Talulah Falls, about 100 miles, and expect to handle freight and passengers. The firm says that the work will be pushed as rapidly as possible. This line will run through Dahlonega.

It has often been said that we can see other people's faults better and quicker than we can our own.
It seems to be a very true saying indeed. Take the last grand jury for instance. They recommended that no wild lands in Lumpkin county be taken by the receiver for less than 50 cents per acre, when at the same time one of their returns 80 acres of land at $8.00.
Surely it wasn't a unanimous vote on that question or the jury wasn't "polled." Any way, we will take it for granted that the majority wants more taxes collected, and it must come from the wild lands alone. Why not raise on some other property too?
Three out of that number return their watches at one dollar each.
Four or five others value theirs at from $2 on up to $8. One farmer says he can make with three dollars a worth of tools. Another hauls on a two-horse wagon valued at only a couple of dollars. Another is keeping house with five dollars' worth of furniture including the kitchen outfit. And last but not least the owner of a thousand dollar farm and $2,000 in cash carries a two dollar watch, and still another having a $2,000 farm keeps house furnished with just fifteen dollars' worth of household goods, kitchen furniture included. The tax discret shows all this. These items are no reflections on any one. We are just giving the news.

Subscribers wishing their addresses changed can have it done with pleasure by letting us know.

Col. W. A. Charters went down to Atlanta to witness the inauguration of Gov. Terrell last Saturday.

Mr. C. W. Satterfield has been to Atlanta to lay in a full stock of goods for the Union Store Company.

The hauling of the dynamo and other machinery to the Chestatee power plant was completed this week.

Don't forget to renew your subscription when the time expires if you want the NUGGET's weekly visit continued.

Those having anything for publication must remember that our publication day has been changed to Thursday, a day earlier.

One day last week a daughter of Mr. Charlie Datson, while having a spasm fell across a rock pillar of the house, split her nose and scarred up her face so that she had to be brought to a doctor for treatment.

It is reported that one or two teeth were removed from Jim Adams' mouth last Saturday night without the help of a dentist. His wife threw a quart bottle at her husband, striking him in the mouth with the above results.

As stated before, many of the wells in Dahlonega have gone perfectly dry and the water in others is so low that the physicians consider several of them unhealthy and suggest that the water from such be boiled for drinking purposes.

J. F. Hill of Lithonia, Ga., came up yesterday and carried away Mr. W. H. Jones' fine bird dog, after making an affidavit that it was stolen some time ago by W. C. Berry. Mr. Jones bought it from Mr. Miles Berry of this county.

Tax payers will bear in mind that the collector takes no county orders, as they are directed to the county treasurer and not to him, but he will take jury scrip for taxes as the law directs. So if you present a county order to the collector and it is not received you must not puff up about it.

A young Mr. Jackson who came here a little more than two weeks ago from Cherokee county and entered college, took sick in a few days afterwards and died on Friday night last, of typhoid fever. His remains were carried back to Cherokee county for interment. The relatives of the deceased have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire community.

Mr. J. A. Elliott, after residing in this county many years left today to locate at Soda, Tenn.
For many years he mined at the Hand mine and in five years took out about 5,000 pennyweights of gold. Jim has always been a warm friend to the writer and we hated to see him go. We wish him and his family a safe trip to their new home.

City Marshal Harbison informs us that his well has gone dry and it begins to look like all the persons living on the hill in his neighborhood will soon have to go to hauling water. When asked where he would get it he replied that he didn't know. Even the Spout Spring that has heretofore furnished even enough water for bathing purposes, is dry for the first time known.

The scarlet fever has broke out again in Dahlonega in a mild form.
There are four cases. Two at Councilman J. K. McGee's, one at Mr. H. D. Gurleys and one at Miss Maggie Woodwards. The council has taken action and quar-antined these places as far as they deem it necessary. Yes, it is a very mild form, so much so that one of Mr. McGee's children had it and got well two or three weeks ago and was not sick enough for the attention of a physician, and the parents say they didn't know what it was until two others took it. Dr. Wheelchel noticed them when he was called in to treat Mr.
McGee for some other disease. We consider this quarantine a farce.

Mr. Elijah Beck has sold his work for a session of only four

lie M. McAfee, 25 Cynamore St., ago, has returned on a visit. He says that he prefers living here than in Montana.

If those who manufacture extract of lemon were to make a strike it would be tough on the many people in Dahlonega who use it as a substitute for liquor.

Mr. Poole of Alpharetta, who recently visited this place, gives the mountains, mills and mines of this section a glowing description in the Press of that city.

The recent grand jury was strictly opposed to married men and married women having sweethearts. Four bills were found against parties charged with this offense.

John Chatten of Lumpkin county, was convicted in the U. S.
court for breaking into Wier postoffice. He was released on a bond of $1,000 until his application of a motion for a new trial is heard on December the 6th.

Before the court was closed last Thursday Judge Estes said that it would up his business as a public official, that he was going to retire from public life and go home and spend the rest of his days in quietude. Thus the bar has lost one of its most wisest and ablest members.

Our friend Prof. Rogers, who is in charge of the dormitory, paid the highest price for chickens last week that they ever sold at in Dah-lonega. He gave 12 cents per pound and some of them brought from 88 to 90 cents each. It was a fine lot and a fine price, but he will hereafter pay by the "piece."

F. M. Turner and S. D. Grin-des were both in town last week, but not feeling in the best of humor. The object of their visit was to pay off a hundred dollar bond of Bud Blackwell that was forfeited at the last term of court.
If such as this continues defendants will not be able to give bond and will have to spend the time in jail.

Last week Judge Estes, while on the bench at this place, paid Sol-licitor Charters a very high compliment. The Judges remarks were: "I say it to his face as I have said a hundred miles away, he is one of the best Solicitors in Georgia. He is perfectly honest in his business and won't tell a lie for the purpose of trying to convict a defendant."

In order that our subscribers in certain parts of the county may get their papers before they are nearly a week old we have changed the day of publication to Thursday so the NUGGETS will reach the Dahlonega postoffice by noon on Thursday and leave on all the noon mails going out that day, and all patrons of the Dahlonega postoffice will find their papers ready by noon that day.

Mr. Swain's term of office as steno-grapher for the courts of this circuit ended last week at Dahlonega, and he is now at his home at Reeves Station taking a rest. Mr.
Swain has performed his duties well and satisfactorily. Judge Estes said before he left that the gentleman was perfect in his business. He had carefully examined his papers and always found them correct. Mr. Swain is an applicant agent. He is endorsed by almost the entire bar of the circuit and we trust that Judge Kinsey will reappoint him.

The little three months-old child of Duff Hunters was found dead in the bed last week.

es.

Mr. J. V. Harbison makes a hustling secretary of an association. He prepared the manuscript of the New Union Minutes and we printed them and he had them distributed in about ten days after the association closed its session.

It is still very dry here. Not enough rain has fallen in three weeks to run on the ground. And the weather has been unusually warm for the season up to last Tuesday. It turned cold enough to make fires and overcoats comfortable.

It would be but very little trouble to stick an old newspaper in your chimney next time it rains and burn it out. This might save your house from catching some dry time and burning up and destroying the whole town. A house at Blue Ridge came near being burned the other day by the soot in the chimney taking fire and setting the roof on account of the occupants neglecting to look after their chimney at the proper time. You must remember that we have no water now to fight fire with.

Men, if you have anything against a man don't take spite out of him by reporting some little trifling matter he has done, to the solicitor general or to a grand juror and screen yourself by letting it appear as a "general presentment." Neither be guilty of dressing a letter with a list of witnesses where one will get it.
This is mean. It shows cowardice.
Yet it was done at last Lumpkin Superior Court, and in a case or two it proved to be a false alarm, causing a lot of extra cost to the county. You will talk about revenue reporting being mean. This is worse. Revenue prisoners in most cases can serve their short terms out in jail, while a person found guilty of violating the state law has to pay out big sums of money or work for many months in the chain gang at hard labor.
Grand jurors should let people get even with their enemies in some other manner than this and pay no attention to such reports unless they are willing to appear as prosecutors.

Every man, woman and child of Lumpkin county are perfectly familiar with the charges brought against Sheriff Jim Davis of this county at the election concerning the reward of $100 that was paid by the state to Mr. Geo. Walker and Mr. Thomas Ray, who carried the sheriff along and arrested Robt. Long in Fannin county in January for the murder of one of the Clarks, occurring a few years ago in this county. Walker, after many months work succeeded in locating Long at his father's house in the county before mentioned. Then he procured the services of Mr. Ray and sheriff Davis to assist him. After this was done attorney Huff fixed up the papers for Walker to draw his money. He paid Mr. Ray half of it, but not a cent of the states money went to the sheriff. He was given a portion of the private reward offered by the brothers of the murdered man. Notwithstanding a court had passed since it occurred and not a word was said about this transaction then, as soon as the campaign opened a great to-do was made about it and hand bills and posters not quite as big as bed quilts were printed by the thousands and placed in every nook and corner of the county.
So at the session of the court last week the matter was brought before the grand jury. At first an effort was made to procure sufficient evidence before drawing a bill, to get one against Sheriff Davis alone. This failed.
Then a bill was drawn against the sheriff, Walker, Ray and Huff all together and after a thorough investigation a "no bill" was returned. So it is now time to give us a rest.

21 ANDERSON & JONES.

Col. Baker and several others made a hunt a few nights ago for foxes and caught one. And on Monday night Messrs. Jackson, Lilly, Ben Moore and two or three others made a fifteen miles ride for some down on the branches, creek and river and not a single one did they find, but came across one of those cats usually caught to the displeasure of hunters.

Mr. Edward Clarke, Jr., writes quite a lengthy article in the last issue of the Sunny South about Dahlonega, her gold mines, college, beautiful mountains and other things of interest. We know of everything he speaks about except the cave in the mountain "filled with the skins of animals, birds and insects, piles of peculiar rocks and Indian arrow heads, old rifles, bows and arrows, and many other things too numerous to mention."

We understand that a certain defeated candidate remarked just after the election that we would lose 200 subscribers to the NUGGET so far we have lost seven, six men and one lady. If there are others let them send in so we can give their names at once. Although their places have been doubly filled we want to put on a green shirt with the tail bound with black as a token of respect and memory of the male subscribers who are so silly as to become offended at what is said in a campaign.

It will be seen that the recent grand jury of Lumpkin county recommended a tax of 25 cents to be levied on all taxable property outside of the limits of Dahlonega, in Lumpkin county, for rural schools. If two successive grand juries recommend it then an election will be held and if two thirds of the number polled at the previous election favor it, then it becomes a law. The residents of the town will not be allowed to vote in said election but if it carries every one of our citizens owning property outside of the town limits will have to pay all the same. This matter should receive due consideration by the next grand jury before taking action. The taxes of Lumpkin county are higher now than many of her citizens are able to pay, being compelled often to want for the necessities of life in order to meet the tax demands, and if they increase much more the common class of people can't stand it. It would be better for the little ones to grow up in partial ignorance than to have the small belongings of parents sold for taxes for their children's enlightenment. But there is no use of this. If the present five months free schools are patronized regularly the children will get enough education to enable them to do most anything they desire. And if the wealthier ones wish to patronize higher schools the way is open to them.
Where will the farmers come from if the boys spend all their time in school? Five months is all the common laborer or farmer is able to spare his sons from the field or shop.

"Beet" Davis' wife was carried to the asylum today.

The college library is now in charge of Mrs. C. W. Stead.

Some of the county officers thought they would see a colored wedding in the court house and the two lovers, Will Wright and Carrie Stevens, disgraced and the man made bond for his appearance at the next term of Lumpkin Superior court and the would be bride went home sad but wiser after it was too late.

RHEUMATISM CURED AT LAST.

Good News For All Who Suffer With Rheumatism Free.

To all who suffer with Rheumatism I will gladly send free the wonderful story of how my mother was cured after years of suffering, together with the most elaborate treatise on Rheumatism ever published.

No matter what your form of Rheumatism is, whether acute, chronic, muscular, rheumatic, deformant, a static, neuralgic, gout, lumbago, sciatica, no matter how many doctors have failed in your case—no matter how many so-called "cures" you have tried—I want you to write to me and let me tell you how mother was cured and I will send you a copy of my book.

I am neither a Doctor nor a Professor—simply a plain man of business—but I have a CURE for Rheumatism, and I want to tell everyone who suffers with Rheumatism all about it. I wish to be clearly understood, and that all who are suffering with this terrible disease, however apparently beyond the reach of cure, will write to me this day and I will send you by return mail this work of mine. I appeal as sincerely to the "scientific" ill who are weaned and discouraged with "doctoring" and to those who have been cast aside as "incurable." All you have thought about Rheumatism may be wrong. Let me tell your experience. Surely, if you have Rheumatism, or have a suffering friend, it will pay you to investigate my offer, anyway, and prove for yourself these claims I make.

Send me your address today—a postal card will do—and I will mail you this wonderful story. If you have any friends suffering with Rheumatism, no matter where located, send me their address, and I will mail them a copy. My address is VICTOR RAINBOLT, Boarded, Ind.
